BLAMES THE WOMAN.

Like Adam, Martin Thorn Was Tempted and He Fell.

THE OLD STORY OVER AGAIN.

Relates How the Deed Was Done and How He Purchased Some of the Materials Wanted for the Same.

DRAMATIC BUT VERY AMATEUR

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The trial of Martin Thorn for the murder of Guldensuppe was closed today so far as the taking of evidence is concerned. Tomorrow morning the lawyers for the defendant and the people will sum up and it is expected that Justice Maddox will charge the jury early in the afternoon. Mr. Howe will begin his final appeal in Thorn's behalf at half past 9 o'clock and he expects to conclude before noon.

District Attorney Young will then have his say for the prosecution, and he expects to finish within two hours. It is not expected that the charge of Justice Maddox will be very lengthy, so that by three o'clock in the afternoon the case may be with the jury. Opinions, both lay and legal, differ very materially as to the probable result. Many look for a conviction, but a greater number anticipate a disagreement. A few of Thorn's former employers were called by the defense today, and they all gave the accused barber an excellent character, dating back some ten years. Thorn himself was the only other witness called for the defense. From the moment he was led to the witness chair until he left it some hours later, the prisoner conducted himself in a cool and impressive manner. His statements in reply to general questions and his answers in his direct and cross examinations were delivered in a moderate tone of voice, which could be heard distinctly by all in the court house. At times his voice would drop so that he could not be heard a few feet away, but Mr. Howe reminded the witness at those times that he should speak louder, and these admonitions always had the desired effect.

Thorn, in his story of the murder, deliberately accused Mrs. Nack of having shot Guldensuppe and declared that when he, Thorn, reached the Woodside cottage, between 11 and 12 o'clock on Friday, June 25, the woman met him at the door and told him that Guldensuppe was lying dead upstairs and that she had shot and killed him. This, said Thorn, was the first intimation that he had of the purpose for which Mrs. Nack had rented Woodside cottage. Up to that moment he had understood she was going to start a baby farm there, and that he was to live with her and share the profits. He described in detail how, after Mrs. Nack had begged of him to help her get rid of the body, he accompanied her to the room on the second floor where he found Guldensuppe lying dead from a bullet wound in the right side of the head. Mrs. Nack told him she had carried the revolver in her hand, covered by a handkerchief, and that as Guldensuppe was looking into a closet she shot him in the side of the head. Thorn then said he went out and bought two pounds of plaster of paris, at Mrs. Nack's direction and returned with it shortly afterward. This was about noon. When he got back to where the body lay Mrs. Nack was still there, and he helped her undress the corpse.

Between them they carried the body to the bath tub and Mrs. Nack cut it into five pieces. She first cut the head from the trunk with the aid of a knife and saw. Then she severed the trunk and boasted of her knowledge of anatomy while so doing. Then the severed the legs, using the knife and saw. The knife looked like a butcher's knife. It was not a stilleto or dirk knife. Mrs. Nack, according to the witness, remained there all that day until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when she went out to get some fresh air, as it was very warm and sultry in the house. At 5 o'clock she returned and then she carried a bundle containing the murdered man's clothes and the pistol, saw and knife, and he, with the head in a parcel under his arm, left the house and took a trolley car to the Ninty-second St. ferry to New York. From the boat he dropped the head into the East river and when they reached New York she went to her rooms on Ninth avenue and burned the clothes in a cooking stove. The next day the rest of the body was made up in three parcels and disposed of in the manner which Mrs. Nack stated at the last trial.

In rebuttal three witnesses swore that they had seen Mrs. Nack in her rooms in New York between half-past 2 o'clock and 4 on the afternoon of June 25, and Mrs. Walley said that she had seen Mrs. Nack leave the cottage about twenty minutes after she and the man with the light suit had entered.

The prosecution did not put Mrs. Nack on the stand and the court ruled against Mr. Howe's attempt to introduce the testimony given by Mrs. Nack at the mistrial.

This closed the case for the prosecution and the defense. The court adjourned at seven minutes to 5 o'clock until half past 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Appeal for the Starving.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 28.—In consequence of the widespread destitution among the people who have been concentrated at certain points in Cuba, the governor-general of the island has informed Consul-General Lee that United States citizens who desire to send supplies to the poor and needy in Cuba should send them to the Catholic bishops nearest the point of collection, and these prelates would in turn consign whatever might be sent to the bishops of the island at Havana and Santiago de Cuba for distribution.

He also informed Mr. Lee that the Madrid government alone has power to remit duties on supplies that may be sent. It is suggested that the quickest and probably the most practicable method of rendering aid to the sorely distressed whose lamentable condition appeals to all charitably inclined people for aid is by sending money rather than supplies.

Consul-General Lee has made a report to the secretary of state, in which he says there are 1,607 American citizens in Cuba dependent upon charitable assistance. They have been partly provided for out of the $50,000 appropriated by Congress.

Gen. Lee says that in making provision for the relief of those citizens more then $1,500 a week must be expended. He has drawn $25,000 of the sum appropriated of which two drafts of $5,000 each were drawn this month. He expresses the opinion that a considerable time must elapse before the indigents will be self-sustaining.

Three Men Asphyxiated.

PORT HURON, Mich., November 29.—Asphyxiation caused the death of three men in the Grand Trunk Railway tunnel last night. The dead are: Henry J. Courtney, engineer of the tunnel train; Arthur Dunn, conductor; John Dalton, brakeman.

A train which was being hauled through to the Candian side broke in two. The engine backed down to get the detached portion of the train, but for hours nothing was heard of the crew. Finally a searching party found the dead bodies and also rescued William Dunn, fireman and brakeman, in an unconscious condition.

Three members of the searching party were overcome, but were later rescued by another party. The tunnel gas arises from the hard coal used by the locomotives.

"In spite of less active trade during October in most sections of the country, and the virtual stoppage of business at the South as a result of the yellow-fever scares and quarantines, the aggregate total for that month exceeded even September's immense total, and marks the heaviest month's total since January, 1893. This result was accomplished, too, with the same number of business days in the month as in September.—Bradstreet's.

Food is Scarce, Gold Plentiful, But the Liquor Has the Call—Reasons for the Present Situation Given.

ADVICE TO MINERS STARTING OUT

TACOMA, Wash., November 29.—The Ledger's special correspondent at Skaguay met the members of the Dalton party, who are just out from Dawson City, headed by Jack Dalton, Joe W. Boyle, of Woodstock, Ont., and W. C. Gales.

Mr. Dalton said that at Dawson City gold is plentiful, but food very scarce. He does not, however, believe that the stage of general actual starvation will be reached. There is some feeling against the two large companies operating there on account of their inability to cope with the situation successfully. It is reported by Mr. Boyle that when the Marguerite came up the Yukon in September she was unable to proceed with her full cargo beyond Fort Yukon, and left there most of the flour aboard, bringing into Dawson a large amount of whisky, presumably for the purpose of getting larger profits than on the flour.

A still further shortage has been caused at Dawson owing to the fact that when the Bell came up from St. Michaels during the first week in October she was stopped at Circle City by nearly 200 armed men and forced to leave the greater part of the cargo there.

Captain Hansen, of the Alaska Commercial company, who went to Dawson, called again. He advised all men with sufficient supplies to start for Fort Yukon, 325 miles below Dawson City and about fifty miles below Circle City. The mounted police were authorized to force the departure of the men without winter outfits, and the company's boats carried down 150 men.

During the next few days nearly 200 men arrived over the Dyea and Skaguay trails, and it is claimed that the larger part of these had only supplies for from one to three months.

Anti-Annexationists.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—A committee has arrived here from Honolulu, on the way to Washington to plead with the United States government against the annexation of Hawaii. The committee consists of two full-blooded Hawaiians and two half-blood Hawaiians. The leader of the delegation is James K. Kauila, the president of the Hawaiian Patriotic league.

There are, besides, David Kalukaliani, the leader of the second Hawaiian society, which differs only in its opinions on local matters from the patriotic league; William Auld, who is the possessor of considerable property on the island of Oahu, and John Richardson, a lawyer from the island of Maui.

A Remarkable Family.

PARSONS, W. Va., Nov. 28.—Riley Hope, sheriff of Tucker county, W. Va., who has charge of Col. Robert Eastham, who is on trial for killing Frank Thompson of Philadelphia on a West Virginia passenger train last March, claims to belong to one of the largest families in the county. He has ten brothers living and one dead, and nine sisters living and one dead.

His father and mother are still living, the mother being only 52 years old, having been married at the age of 16. The boys are all Democrats and very popular, so much so that Riley Hope was elected sheriff by a handsome majority in a Republican county.

Laying the Sandy Hook Cable.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The cable steamer Mackay Bennett today left the White Star line pier, at the foot of Christopher street, having on board a number of telegraph, telephone, steamship, and newspaper men, the guests of the Postal Telegraph Company. The steamship proceeded down the bay and out to sea. The business in hand was to complete the company's cable between Sandy Hook and Coney Island. About six miles of the cable, three miles on the Coney Island side and three miles of the Sandy Hook side, had already been laid.

On reaching the Coney Island end of the cable, already down, the end was picked up and a splice was made. The steamer then headed toward the Sandy Hook section. At that time it was so late in the afternoon that it was decided to defer the completion of the work until tomorrow.

Test connection was made with New York and a number of messages were sent and received over the wire.

Eli Perkins' College Stories.

"Ah, I have an impression!" exclaimed Dr. McCosh, the president of Princeton College, to the mental philosophy class. "Now, young gentlemen," continued the doctor, as he touched his head with his forefinger, "can you tell me what an impression is?

No answer.

"What; no one knows? No one can tell me what an impression is!" exclaimed the doctor, looking up and down the class.

"I know," said Mr. Arthur. "An impression is a dent in a soft place."

"Young gentleman," said the doctor, removing his hand from his forehead and growing red in the face, "you are excused for the day."

The next day Dr. McCosh was loaded for Mr. Arthur and he proceeded to wind him up.

"Mr. Arthur," he began, "what position of the horizon do astronomers call the zenith?"

"It is the spot in the heavens directly over one's head," replied Mr. Arthur promptly.

"Yes, and two persons can have the same zenith, can't they?" asked the doctor, his eyes twinkling at the thought of drawing his victim into his net.

"They can, sir," answered Mr. Arthur.

"When?" asked the doctor, who supposed he was on the eve of a stupendous class joke.

"Why, when one fellow stands on the other fellow's head!"

Luetgert's Second Trial.

CHICAGO, November 29.—The second trial of Adolph L. Luetgert for the murder of his wife was called before Judge Gary to-day. The big sausage manufacturer was represented by ex-Judge Lawrence Harmon and Attorney Max Riese, Attorney Phalen having withdrawn from the case yesterday, after a heated interview with Luetgert and the new lawyers.

The court room was packed with spectators when the court was called to order.

Most of the session was taken up by Mr. Harmon in arguing that Judge Gary should not try Luetgert on the ground that he was not qualified to sit as a criminal judge.

Judge Gray overruled the motion o the defense, intimating, however, that he was willing that some other judge should sit in the case, providing counsel for the defense could come to an agreement with the prosecution as to who should hear it.

Attorneys Harmon and Riese held a conversation this afternoon with State's Attorney DeNeen, with the object of deciding on some other judge to hear the case.

Lynched for Stealing a Mule.

WAYCROSS, GA., Nov. 25.—Jerry Johnson, a negro, was lynched this evening by a mob near Screveni. He was in charge of officers, and was being taken to jail at Jessup. A crowd of armed men rode up to the officers and demanded the prisoner. The negro was made the target for a number of rifles and his body was perforated with bullets. The negro had been arrested for stealing a mule.

SAVANNAH, GA., Nov. 25.—An unknown negro was killed by lynchers near Blackshear this afternoon, his body being literally riddled by bullets. The negro outraged Miss Rebie Davis, the seventeen-year-old daughter of Eli Davis, a farmer, seven miles north of Blackshear, while she was alone in her home.

Jas. S. Ford executors of George M. Ford, vs. William J. Jackson, et al. Ejectment; plea not guilty.

MONDAY, 2 P. M.—The case of Mary Ellen Shutt vs. Eve Mingle was settled and discontinued.

A non suit was entered in case of H. A. McKee, now for use of Kezia Stevens, vs. H. M. Dumming.

Annie C. Essington vs. W. R. Campbell. Summons in trespass; plea not guilty. Non suit entered.

Frank P. Blair vs. Austin Brumgart, Sarah Gibbs and Chas. Treziyunly. This was an action to recover possession of a tract of land situate in Walker township. It was continued on part of plaintiff that the defendants had cut and sold timber from the tract, claiming the same as their property.

Verdict rendered by the jury for the land described in the writ in favor of plaintiff, subject however to a question of law reserved for the Court.

The first seriously contested case tried in court this week was that of Josephine Williams vs. J. C. Henderson. The jury was sworn to decide the name of J. C. Henderson was a forgery to a certain note for two hundred dollars or not. The note in question purported to be signed February 21, 1889, probably in three months after date and signed by Wm. J. Kline, John C. Henderson and George Kline. John C. Henderson denied that he had ever signed the note but the Jury found a verdict for the plaintiff for $305.00. Messrs. Reeder and Gray, counsel for defendant, moved the court for a new trial, with reasons to be filed in ten days.

J. L. Spangler vs. D. F. Fortney, executor of, etc., of Margaret Woodring, deceased. This was a scira facias sur judgment. As there was no defense a verdict of the jury was taken in favor of plaintiff in the sum of $285.60.

The case of Mrs. Rose S. Lyon vs. Gustave Lyon was resumed at 9 o'clock a. m. On part of the defendent a number of witnesses stated that Mr. Moyer Lyon, husband of the plaintiff, asserted that he left his wife voluntarily and not under any coertion, threat, etc., on part of Gustave Lyon. Up to the present time the defense is hearing evidence as to statements made by the plaintiff's husband at or about the time of their marriage to the effect that he (Moyer Lyon) refused to live and cohabit with his wife for the reason, as he stated, that he did not have any affection for her and would not live with her.

Rose Sternberg Lyon vs. Gustave Lyon was taken up on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. E. R. Chambers, one of the counsel for plaintiff, opened the case and stated quite specifically what the plaintiff's action was founded upon, the same being one brought against Gustave Lyon for the alienating the affections of the plaintiff's husband.

The plaintiff, Mrs. Lyon, was called and testified to the fact that she was married in Allentown, Pa., Dec. 1893, to Moyer Lyon, a brother of Gustave Lyon. That they returned to Bellefonte on the 28th Dec. 1893, and that a day or two later her husband refused to live with her. That on Saturday the 30th Dec. 1893, the defendant arrived in Bellefonte. That after the arrival, Moyer Lyon refused to live with her.

She was corroborated in her statements by several other witnesses. Several witnesses were called to prove alleged statements made by the defendant to the effect that he did not approve of his brother's actions and didn't approve of his brother living with the said plaintiff.

Hon. A. O. Furst opened the case on part of defendant. The main line of evidence offered on part of defendant was to the effect that Moyer Lyon, husband of this plaintiff, refused voluntarily and by no threats or intimidation, to live with his wife, and that this defendant used no means whatsoever to influence his brother to live separate and apart from his wife, as was alleged in plaintiff's statement and as their evidence tended to prove.

Witnesses also stated on the stand that Moyer Lyon said to them that he had no affection whatever for his wife, and that the only reason for his marriage to her was that he wanted to save her from disgrace, etc., and that he stated positively that he would never cohabit with her. Evidence was also admitted which was intended to prove the fact that Gustave Lyon, the defendant, urged Moyer to live with his wife and go to housekeeping.

The defendant denied all the statements which tended to implicate him in the charges preferred, which were made by plaintiff's witnesses.

The argument of counsel and charge by the court will likely take place this (Thursday) morning.

James Scarlet, Esq., of Danville, Pa., is interested on part of defendant. He was the principal counsel in the Winterstein murder trial at Bloomsburg, about one year ago, also for Rev. S. C. Swallow, of Harrisburg, in his trial for libel.

THE NATIONAL GUARD.

What a Regular Army Officer Thinks of the Same

HE MAKES SOME SUGGESTIONS

Is in Favor of a Military Reservation for Pennsylvania and Thinks the State Rich Enough to Have One.

A REPORT WHICH IS CREDITABLE

HARRISBURG, November 25.—Captain Alexis R. Paxton, Fiftieth infantry, United States army, attached to the headquarters of the National Guard of Pennsylvania, has forwarded to Secretary of War Alger a statement showing the condition of the guard for the year 1897. The captain states that the officers of the guard have reached out to a character of exercises which demanded annual divisional encampments. He claims that an annual concentration of the division would furnish it an opportunity to advance rapidly in instruction in field manœuvres on such a scale as would put each brigade on its mettle.

Captain Paxton thinks Pennsylvania is rich enough to own a military reservation large enough and of sufficient topographical features adapted for formation of marches of large bodies of troops, to manœuvres for taking up a position for battle and to the development and following up of an attack by the whole division. He reports that the department of instruction in rifle practice has undergone great improvement in the last few years and that Colonel Asher Miner, of Wilkesbarre, inspector general of rifle practice, has established a standard of honest work which is looked up to with respect by the guard in general.

WEDDING BELLS.

Miss Katharine Miller and William E. Green Married.

As it was announced a few days ago in our paper a grand wedding would take place among our colored citizens on Thanksgiving day, it came off and was witnessed by hundreds of people.

Long before five o'clock the little church was crowded to the doors with friends anxious to see the bridal party, which arrived promptly at the above mentioned time.

The beautiful strains of music from the "Golden Dream" wedding march was played by Miss Katie Jackson.

It was announced by the preacher, Rev. Woodson, that the bride and groom had arrived. First came the ushers, Messrs. Calvin Piper, Leander Green, Lewis Mills and Howard Trambell; followed by two very pretty little flower girls, Anna Delige, of Philipsburg, and Jennie L. Jackson. Next came the bridesmaid and best man, Miss Grace Jackson and Mr. John Miller; they were followed by the bride and groom, Miss Katharine Miller and Mr. William E. Green.

Miss Miller presented a beautiful appearance, she being attired in a white satin gown with a flowing train five feet long. She wore a long bridal veil and white kid slippers. The groom was attired in full evening dress of conventional black and made a fitting husband for Miss Miller.

Both of the young people are well known in our community and come from the most respected colored families in Bellefonte. The presents they received were many and very pretty and useful.

After the wedding ceremony had been performed the guests were invited to the homes of Messrs. Wm. Lee and Calvin Piper, where a grand reception was held.

The REPUBLICAN wishes this young married couple much happiness through life.

The President at Church.

WASHINGTON, November 25.—At the Metropolitan Methodist Episcopal church where President McKinley attended services to-day, the Rev. Dr. Johnson read Thanksgiven proclamation of the president and said that in issuing it the president showed piety and wisdom which augured well for the nation. "Prosperity is here" said the minister. "The light of better days is shining on us, and though it will take time to recover from four years of distress, we are gaining. Times are hard but not as hard as they have been, and people should thank God that it is no worse after the experiences of the past four years."

Dr. Johnson presented statistics to prove the assertion that prosperity had returned, referring to the large crops of wheat, cotton and other products. "The created values of this year in the United States are estimated as fourteen billions. he said, and he then dilated upon the greasness of this nation and its missions to the world.

Speaking of the perils that threatened the nation he said that chief among them were rum, socialism and Jesuitism. He spoke at some length against danger of a foreign church obtaining ascendancy in the state and said that if Jesuitism ever prevails in this country the United States will become as Mexico, Italy and Spain. He advocated giving the Catholics the same civil rights that every man enjoys, but that his church be warned to keep its hands off the state. In the course of his remarks, Dr. Johnson referred to Spain as "a burnt out nation, the basest of kingdoms." He referred to the danger of corrupt parties, and instanced the victory of Tammany in New York.

HAD TROUBLE OVER IN AFRICA

A Contest Over the Old Game of Grab in Which Each Expects More Than it is Entitled to Have in Justice.

MAY RESULT VARIOUS WAYS.

BERLIN, Nov. 26.—A dispatch to the Frankfort Zeitung from Rome reports that a sanguinary conflict between the French and British troops at Nikki, in the Lagos Hinterland.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—While the accuracy of the statement contained in the Rome dispatch to the Frankfort Zeitung announcing that a conflict has taken place between the French and British troops in the Lagos Hinterland is doubted, the London morning papers pointed out the imminent danger resulting from the proximity of the two forces in the contested territory.

A conflict between the French and British forces in the Lagos Hinterland has been anticipated for some time past. Both countries have been hurrying troops into the disputed territory. The trouble is of about thirty years' standing. In 1870 France and Great Britain opened negotiations for the settlement of their respective frontiers in West Africa, and it was decided in substance that French influence and authority should be confined to the north of a certain line and that Great Britain should have a free hand south of this line.

The outbreak of the Franco-Prussian war interrupted the negotiations. Finally it was resolved to appoint commissioners to reconsider the whole matter, and as a result in the course of the next ten years four separate agreements were concluded. But since these agreements were arrived at further difficulties have arisen owing to the failure of the boundary commissioners of Great Britain and France to agree among themselves as to the frontier lines, and especially as to the interpretation of the Say Barua treaty.

The French, however, dispatched armed expeditions, not only to Nikki, but to Broussa, which has all along been acknowledged to be within the sphere of British influence. Besides, the French have raised a question as to whether the right bank of the Niger, below Say, is properly included in the British sphere under the Say Barua treaty and to settle these and other questions in dispute commissioners representing Great Britain and France are now tardily beginning to deliberate in Paris.

Later in the day a rumor was received at the British colonial office to the effect that there had been a collision between the British and French forces at Nikki, which is said to have been captured by the French troops.

The officials of the colonial office, however, regard this report as highly improbable, as, they explain, the British police in the Hinterland, who are in very limited numbers, had strict orders to avoid any collision with the French. It is also understood that the French forces had been instructed not to come into conflict with the British.

The British forces in the Hinterland, it is further stated, are being reinforced considerably.

DELIGHTFUL ENTERTAINMENT.

The Third Attraction of the People's Popular Course a Great Success.

Friday evening, in spite of the inclemency of the weather, the Ladies' Symphony Orchestra of Boston, drew one of the largest audiences ever in Garman's pretty play house. This was the third attraction of the People's Popular Course, and the audience, which was made up of the elite of Bellefonte, was a fitting testimonial to the popularity of this entertainment.

As early as half past seven the people began to gather and from then until quarter past eight there was a steady stream of fashionable dressed people wending their way into the opera house.

The sight which met the gaze of the audience when the curtain arose was indeed a beautiful one. There were twenty young ladies dressed, some in white and some in blue, grouped in an artistic manner about the stage, and presenting a very pretty picture, indeed.

The orchestra is under the leadership of Prof. D. W. Howard, one of the finest musicians in the country. He may be said to be the pioneer organizers of ladies' orchestras in the United States, as he organized the first one in Boston as early as 1882. It was composed of six ladies and four gentlemen and from this small beginning has grown this splendid concert company of artists that delighted our people last night, Every member of this superb organization is a star of the first magnitude and it has among its members the very finest and highest saleried performers in the country to-day, among the number may be mentioned two members of the famous McGiberry family.

The concert was finer than even expected and every number rendered by the orchestra was exceptionally good. The overture, "Fra Diavola," was especially deserving of comment, and was heartily applauded, the orchestra rendering as an encore a pretty piece entitled "At the Fair."

Miss Emma Halker, the sweet soprano singer, a gifted and beautiful young lady, won the audience by her singing. She has a voice of wonderful beauty and compas. Her first selection was by Gounod, and was entitled "More Regal in His Low Estate." In response to an encore she sang a waltz song entitled "Happy Birds." Her second number on the program was "Bobolink," by Bischoff, which she rendered very beautifully and as an encore to this she sang "Phil's Secret"

The trombone solo by Miss Belle F. Yeaton also deserves more than a passing mention. It was "Toreador's song from Carmen," and seemed to take the audience by storm, receiving a hearty and enthusiastic encore. When recalled she rendered a beautiful "Intermezzo from Cavileria Rusticana."

The company was also ably assisted in making the evening an enjoyable one by Karl Marshall White who made a hit the first time he appeared and at once became a prime favorite with the audience. His every appearance called forth a hearty encore.

And so the entertainment throughout was pleasing in every particular and highly satisfactory to every one present. We can assure Prof. Howard and his company a hearty welcome should they ever return to Bellefonte.

Candy Cathartic, cure constipation forever. 10c, 25c. If C. C. C. fail, druggists refund money.

According to a celebrated anatomist there are upwards of 5,000,000 little glands in the human stomach. These glands pour out the digestive juices which dissolve or digest the food. Indigestion is want of juice, weakness of glands, need of help to restore the health of these organs. The best and most natural help is that given by Shaker Digestive Cordial. Natural, because it supplies the materials needed by the glands to prepare the digestive juices. Because it strengthens and invigorates the glands and the stomach, until they are able to do their work alone. Shaker Digestive Cordial cures indigestion certainly and permanently. It does so by natural means, and therein lies the secret of its wonderful and unvaried success.

At druggists, price 10 cents to $1.00 per bottle.

Behind every great man you will find a great mother. Behind every great man you will find a healthy mother. A child's physical and mental welfare depend to a tremendous degree upon the mother's condition during the period of gestation. If, during these critical months, the mother suffers from weakness and disease of the delicate and important organs that bear the burdens of maternity, the chances are that her child will be weak, puny and sickly, with the seeds of serious disease already implanted in its little body at birth. If the mother, during the interesting period, suffers from the abnormal mental states which recur periodically with women who are weak in a womanly way, these conditions will impress themselves upon the mind of the child.

Every woman wants children who are both physically and mentally healthy. Every woman may have that kind of children if she will take proper care of herself in a womanly way. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all medicines for prospective mothers. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs that bear the brunt of maternity. It makes them strong, healthy, vigorous, virile and elastic. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration, soothes pain and tones and builds up the shattered nerves. It banishes the usual discomforts of the critical period, and makes baby's introduction to the world easy and almost painless. It insures the little new comer's health and a bountiful supply of nourishment.

Boy's Body in The Leaves.

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 25.—The noonday assassination of a boy is reported from Horry County. Saturday Charles Stevens took his son George from their home at Red Bluff to the beach to fish. Monday Stevens sent his son home with the wagon. He remained at the fishery. At 11 a. m. the boy was seen at Wampee driving with John Butler, a negro, walking behind with a gun. At 1 p. m. Butler returned to Wampee with the team and offered it for sale, saying he had bought it from Stevens, but found the animal too slow,

George was not missed for two days, his mother thinking him at the beach and his father supposing him at home. The whole country soon turned out and scoured the woods. The body of the boy was found buried under leaves and trash with a load of shot in the back of the head. Search is being made for Butler, and he will certainly be killed if caught.

Take Cascarets Candy Cathartic. 10c or 25c. [illegible] 1897

Although a very busy man, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has found time in which to write a great book of over a thousand pages entitled, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in Plain English, or Medicine Simplified. Few books printed in the English language have reached so great a sale as has this popular work, over 680,000 copies having been sold at $1.50 each. The profits of this enormous sale having repaid its author for the great amount of labor and money expended on its production he has now decided to give away, absolutely free, 500,000 copies of this valuable book, the recipient only being required to mail to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, of Buffalo, N. Y., of which company he is president, twenty-one (21) one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only, and the book will be sent post-paid. It is a veritable medical library, complete in one volume. It contains 1008 large pages, and over 300 illustrations, some of them in colors. The Free Edition is precisely the same as that sold at $1.50 except only that the books are bound in strong manilla paper covers, instead of cloth. It is not often that our readers have an opportunity to obtain a valuable book on such generous terms, and we predict that few will miss availing themselves of the unusual and liberal offer to which we have called their attention.

ANOTHER SPECTACLE YESTERDAY

A Most Tumultuous and Disorderly Scene Takes Place in the Reichrath—The President Again Ignored

CAT CALL AND HISSES GALORE

VIENNA, November 25.—When the lower house of the reichrath reassembled to-day, after adjourning yesterday from the scene of unprecedented disorder, all the ministers were present and the approaches to the presidential tribune were blocked, doors having been erected since the disgraceful fighting of yesterday in and about the tribune and throughout the house.

The entrance of the president of the chamber Dr. Abrahamovic, was the signal for loud and ironical salutations, which were followed by vehement loftist shouts of "Shame."

Dr. Abrahamovic made an attempt to speak, but Dr. Wolff, the German nationalist leader, interrupted him by shouting "Some one else must take the chair, not this swindler."

Herr Schoenerer, the leader of a section of the German opposition, then yelled at the top of his voice:

"I demand the right to speak, which I am entitled to."

Thereupon Mr. Wolff retorted: "There is no such thing as right in this house. It is trodden under foot by this mameluke."

As the uproar which followed showed every sign of increasing, Dr. Abrahamovic adjourned the house until 3 o'clock this afternoon amid a storm of "hurrahs" and "bravos."

When the sitting was resumed the leftists commenced a tremendous din, in the middle of which the German centreist, Herr Falkenhyn, conceived as a happy idea a proposal to cow the obstructionists by threatening their pockets. He moved that for the future disorderly members might be suspended for three days by the president, or for thirty days by the house, during which time their allowance should be stopped. which members refusing to leave the chamber when requested might be forcibly expelled.

The speech was interrupted with continuous uproar, Herr Wolff shouting, "Let's pitch the blackguards out."

The president vainly called for order. Finally Herr Wolff stationed himself directly in front of the presidential tribune and began a shrill whistle. A number of deputies tried to force open the doors at the front of the platform, while a party of Czechs endeavored to prevent them.

When the tumult was at its height Herr Abrahamovic declared that he regarded the motion of Herr Falkenhayn as a necessary measure of self-defense, and called for the voting. The whole right at once arose and the president declared the motion carried. A number of deputies then began clamoring upon the president's platform; whereupon he seized his bell and left the house.

After a short interval he returned and began to address the chamber, but his voice was drowned in a torrent of loftiest yells and shouts of "Get out," and "shame."

Finally the sitting was suspended for an hour, at the close of which President Abrahamovic returned and announced that in accordance with wishes expressed in many quarters he had decided to close the sitting, to open again to-morrow.

These scenes, which are regarded as a parliamentary coup d' etat, were witnessed by the British ambassador, Sir Horace Rumbold, and by Samuel L Clemens (Mark Twain), with other noted foreigners. The motion of Count Falkenhayn, former minister of agriculture. was carried by means of an evidently preconcerted signal by President Abrahamovic and the rightists, for no word of the president was audible.

This novel proceeding was greeted with howls and jeers by the obstructionists. For a long time Count Badeni, the premier, stood calm and unmoved, but when the disorders reached a climax both he and the president sought safety from personal violence in flight.

Five Vienna newspapers, including the Noeue Freie Presse and the socialist organ, Arbeiter Zeitung, in addition to several provincial journals, have been confiscated for articles on Wednesday's proceedings.

Count Badini had interviews with Emperor Francis Joseph last night and this morning. To-days sitting was delayed while the carpenters built fences around the president's chair. While this was going on the assembled members indulged in animated discussions and justed about "the presidential cage."

The leaders of the opposition met this evening to decide what steps should be taken in view of the violation of the constitution, but no decision was arrived at.

STATE POLITICS.

Breezy Fights Against the Machines in Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

THE QUAKER CITY CONTEST,

A Determined Effort to Strip David Martin of His Power.

GENERAL REEDER IS VINDICATED

Judge Scott's Severe Rebuke to Van Valkenburg in Sentencing Him to Pay the Costs in the Case at Easton. Ex-Field Marshal Cooper and the Manner in Which He Sizes Up the Situation.

(Special Correspondence.)

Philadelphia, Nov. 22.—Political matters in the state at large have been rather quiet during the past week, but the attention of the people of the commonwealth is now centered upon the fight that is being made against the political machines in Philadelphia and Pittsburg. The citizens in both places are in a state of revolt. It should be clearly understood, however, that they are not fighting the Republican party in these municipalities, but that the contests are directed against the arrogant bosses that have made the party machinery offensive to thousands of loyal Republicans. The people admire leadership, and will follow a brainy, aggressive leader who has the interests of the state and the party at heart, but they will not submit to the dictation of self appointed political masters who are in politics solely for personal profit and self aggrandizement.

The fight in Philadelphia is particularly interesting. In spite of the stories that have been circulated concerning a deal between Senator Quay and David Martin, nearly all of the warm political supporters of the United States senator are now engaged in a lively fight which has for its main object the dethronement of David Martin as the political boss and master of the Republican party of the Quaker City. Mr. Martin defiantly declares that he will renominate and elect his brother-in-law, William J. Roney, as receiver of taxes. Senator Durham and more than half of the active party leaders in Philadelphia have served notice upon Mr. Martin that he will do no such thing. United States Senator Penrose has come out in a public interview, in which he declares his intention of supporting Senator Durham. He adds that if it is necessary he will take the stump in favor of the Durham candidate for receiver of taxes. The whole affair is likely to have a healthy effect upon the politics of Philadelphia, and it may be the means of averting worse troubles in the future.

One of the interesting events of the week has been the complete vindication of General Reeder from the false and malicious charges that were made against him by some of his bitter political opponents. Mr. Fred Van Valkenburg, the secretary of the Business Men's League of Pennsylvania, was compelled to pay the costs of the prosecution after the grand jury had ignored the indictment against General Reeder. In sentencing Van Valkenburg Judge Scott said in part:

"These indictments have been ignored, and you, as prosecutor, are directed to pay the costs. This situation cannot surprise you. It is probable that it was not intended that these complaints should be tried. A witness deemed by the district attorney to be material, whose name has been widely published in connection with the cases as having knowledge most important, has not been brought here. You were in consultation with him last week. His name does not now appear on any one of these subpoenas, all of which have been carefully prepared by one of your personal counsel not now here to require the attendance of witnesses from many portions of the state, and the production of papers and telegrams of various kinds. It does not seem that this could be accidental, because when these subpoenas came into the hands of the special district attorney he noticed the ommision at once, and requested to be informed where the missing witness could be served.

"This information, he asserts, was refused. The summary writ of the court was unable to reach him. You caused a petition to be presented here in your own name, asking for the dismissal of the special district attorney. You wanted the trial postponed, while his purpose was to prosecute it, as he was appointed to do.

"May it not be reasonably assumed that the law was invoked here in an attempt to stay its arm in another jurisdiction, and that the court was to be made an agency in feeding a controversy which has filled the atmosphere of the commonwealth with the rank odor of its political scandals?"

The sentiment in favor of William C. Arnold of Clearfield county, as the Republican candidate for Governor next year, seems to be growing stronger every day. His friends in the 28th congressional district would do anything in their power for their beloved Congressman and only wait to know that he desires to be a candidate for state honors to give him a constant and hearty support. There is no more popular man in the central part of the state than Mr. Arnold; he is the tried and true friend of the soldier as hundreds in his congressional district well know. Reports from different parts of the state indicate a strong following among the old soldiers and members of labor organizations who are warm friends of the Congressman on account of his known attitude on all questions affecting their interests, his prospects for winning delegates to the state convention are unusually good. In this connection it might be stated that the stronger Mr. Arnold's candidacy becomes the weaker does the independent sentiment appear in comparison. It is believed that the nomination of a clean, aggressive man like Wm. C. Arnold will have the effect of nipping any possible independent movement in the bud. The Philadelphia Inquirer, which has paid some attention to this subject, says that Dr. Swallow and other independent candidates can get very little comfort out of the election figures. The official returns are at hand. While Swallow polled 118,996 votes, Beacom, whom he ran against for state treasurer, polled 372,448, and Brown, the Democrat, 242,731. Beacom had a majority over Brown of 129,117, or more than 10,000 more than Dr. Swallow's total. The latter's campaign was directed against the Republican party, and it utterly failed.

Ex-Field Marshal Thomas V. Cooper, a very careful student of American politics, agrees with The Inquirer's analysis of the election returns. This is the manner in which Mr. Cooper diagnoses the case:

"The remarkable vote received by the sensation loving Swallow will not bear any sort of analysis of special discomfort to the Republicans. His 118,000 votes are readily traced. His Prohibitory colleague received half as many votes as Swallow, or 41,000 above the usual Prohibitory vote. Beacom received 40,000 less than his Republican colleague, McCauley, showing that 40,000 Republicans voted for Swallow. Fifteen thousand more voted for Thompson, independent Republican, making 55,000 disaffected Republicans. Swallow's actual Prohibitory vote was 15,000, his actual Republican vote 40,000 and his Democratic vote 58,000. So we can readily see how this vote was manufactured. There was Democratic disgust at the Reading convention and its Chicago platform, and there was direction from some quarter to Democrats to swell the Swallow vote, so as to help the Democratic party next year. Returns like these are just a little thin, not thick enough for a Republican revolution next year or any other year."

independent vote cutting from both parties in anything like equal proportions cannot harm the Republican party. Nevertheless, it behooves the Republican party to see to it that there is no occasion for grumbling; that there shall be a fair contest and that the state convention shall do its work untrammeled.

There is no disposition thus far to "slate" any one. It may be stated positively that so far as Senator Quay is concerned he has kept hands off. We are glad to note that Representative William A. Stone, who is engaged in a desperate battle with the Chris Magee machine in Pittsburg, has announced that he will remain in the field to the end. His courageus attitude against bossism ought to make him as many friends in Philadelphia. Such a man is needed in Harrisburg.

Steel Trade's Big Boom.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 24.—"The iron and steel workers of the United States have much to be thankful for this year," said President M. M. Garland, of the Amalgamated Association, to-day. "For the first time since 1892 all the mills and almost every blast furnace are again in full operation. There is work. Plants are running double turn, and have orders stacked up. Tinplate and sheet mills are running only part time because they cannot get enough steel bars, which are rolled into sheets so great is the demand for steel.

"Many new tinplate mills are projected and will give work to thousands of additional men. Wages are not yet what they should be, but continued prosperity will bring advances. The important difference between our last Thanksgiving and this one is that there is work for all in the craft. Next year should bring us substantial prosperity."

One of Two Ways

The bladder was created for one purpose, namely, a receptacle for the urine and as such it is not liable to any form of disease except by one of two ways. The first way is from imperfect action of the kidneys. The second way is from careless local treatment of other diseases.

CHIEF CAUSE.

Unhealthy urine from unhealthy kidneys is the chief cause of bladder troubles. So the womb, like the bladder, was created for one purpose, and if not doctored too much is not liable to weakness or disease, except in rare cases. It is situated back of and very close to the bladder, therefore any pain, disease or inconvenience manifested in the kidneys, back bladder or urinary passage is often, by mistake, attributed to female weakness or womb trouble of some sort, The error is easily made and may be as easily avoided. To find out correctly, set your urine aside for twenty four hours; a sediment or settling indicates kidney or bladder trouble, The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kinney, and bladder remedy is soon realized. If you need a medicine you should have the best. At druggists fifty cents and one doller. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet. both sent free by mail. Proud Boast of a Blackmailer.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—William C. Woodward, also known as Big Hawley, was found guilty today of attempting to extort blackmail from Samuel W. Bridgham, a son-in-law of Millionaire William C. Schermerhorn. Woodward has an international reputation as a swindler, and boasted on the witness stand today that as "The Lionel Musgrove" he had obtained $1,000,000 from wealthy Englishmen in London at cards and by other means.

He also said he had been arrested thirty-seven times in the thirty-seven years of his life. This, he said, was the first time in all his career that he had faced a jury.

Froze Fast in the Mud.

MAHANOY CITY, Nov. 24,—Frozen fast in the mud knee-deep for twelve hours was the fearful experience of George Jack, a 5-year-old boy. Late in the afternoon the child wandered from home and was not missed for hours afterward. A careful search of the vicinity by a rescuing party disclosed no trace of the child's whereabouts, and it was long after midnight when the frantic parents returned home without tidings of their lost son.

With the dawn of day they renewed the rearch, dredging mountain streams, mine breaches and scouring the hillside. While hunting along the colliery slush bank they came upon the boy, frozen fast, knee-deep in the mud, and almost dead from exhaustion and exposure.

Two Young Ladies Drowned.

MIDDLETOWN, O., November 25.—Misses Mary and Katie Seaman were drowned this afternoon and their mother is in a dangerous condition as the result of a runaway. They were driving across a bridge that spans the Hydraulic, north of this city, when the horse became frightened, plunged over the side guard of the bridge into fifteen feet of water. The women went down with the horse and the spring wagon. Their screams brought help, but not in time to save the daughters. The mother was resuscitated with great difficulty and is still in a serious condition. She does not know that her daughters are dead and will not be advised until she gets better.

Trouble on the Road.

You start on a journey in winter with team and wagon. Your horses' shoes are smooth to be sure but the weather is mild and the roads soft. No need to bother with a sharpening job, you will take the chances. So far so good.

But en route comes a sudden freeze-up common in our climate. The mud is an iron hard stubble, every puddle a glare of ice. Your team begins to slip and slide. On sideling places you risk going down the bank, wagon and all, with you on top of the wreck. This may happen between villages, and what will you do then? If your team were shod with the Neverslip Shoe and Calk—even though they had been smooth at the start, as we have supposed the old style shoes to be—you would have suffered no embarrassment or delay. Having a supply of these calks in your wagon, you would have removed the worn ones with the wrench; inserted new ones all 'round in twenty minutes (right on the road), and gone on your way on the trot in defiance of the ice.

The Neverslip Calk is solid and durable as the old style calk. It does not wear loose yet is always easily removed. Changing the calk before it is worn down one set of Neverslip Shoes will outwear two or three of the common kind in three months hard use in winter. Here we have economy of time, trouble and money.

Get supplies from your blacksmith. Price of calks 3 to 4½ cents each.

An Angel of Mercy.

Truly, the miraculous cures of rheumatism made by Salvation Oil, justly earned for it the title: an angel of mercy; for many bed-confined rheumatics have experienced the great, curative properties of this modern liniment. "I used Salvation Oil for rheumatism and found it a sure cure. I used three bottles and am now perfectly well, and I would feel myself a benefactor if I could induce every person afflicted with rheumatism to try Salvation Oil." James H. Bryant, Debruhls, N. C. Salvation Oil is sold everywhere for 25 cents, but some dealers may say, "we are out of it," hoping to sell a cheap substitute instead. Insist on getting Salvation Oil, or go to some other dealer who will sell it to you.

Another Ocean Record Broken.

SOUTHAMPTON, Nov. 29.—The North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, Capt. Engelbart, which left New York on November 23, passing the Sandy Hook lightship at about 4:30 p. m. arrived here this afternoon passing the Needles at 3:10. The steamer was delayed twenty-five minutes in standing by a burning ship, but in spite of this she broke the record for the highest average speed across the ocean, her speed per hour averaging 22.35 knots.

On November 23-24, northwest wind and a rough sea, the Kaiser Wilhelm made 401 knots; on November 24-25, fair moderate sea, 520 knots; November 25-26 wind northwest, moderate sea, 513 knots; November 26-27, moderate sea, northwest wind, 528 knots, November 27-28 westerly wind, rough sea, 525 knots; November 28-29, storm, high sea wind northwest 507 knots; November 29, to 3:10 p. m., stormy weather, 71 knots.

The total distance covered was 3,065 knots, and the passage lasted 137 hours 8 minutes, or 5 days 17 hours 8 minutes, from which of course should be deducted the twenty-five minutes lost in standing by the burning ship, which would make her actual passage 5 days 16 hours 43 minutes, though she is only allowed a record of 5 days 17 hours 8 minutes by maritime experts.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

from Our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, Nov. 29, 1897.

Republican conferences are the order of the day, as Senators and Representatives arrive in Washington. President McKinley, having finished his annual message to Congress and got it into the hands of the printers, is devoting a considerable portion of his time to conferring with prominent members of the party as to the legislation of the session. He is particularly anxious that whatever party measures are brought before Congress shall have the united supported of Republicans, and he is losing no opportunity to impress that idea upon those with whom he talks. While not expecting that all his recommendations, financial or otherwise, will be favorably acted upon by Congress, he believes that by good management, some of them can be put through. There are reasons for the belief that a sufficient number of Senators will under certain circumstances vote with the Republicans in the Senate to pass several bills that will greatly strengthen the administration and benefit the country. It is not deemed expedient to specify these measures at this time, but just wait and see if the President does not justify his reputation as a harmonizer.

It is refreshing after reading the numerous jingo schemes advanced just now to find the following sensible language in the annual report of the Secretary of the Navy: "Additions to our fleet may be hereafter necessary to bring it up, in case of an emergency, to an extent commensurate with the growing necessities of the country, especially in view of the development of Alaska, which is a continent in itself, and of the possible annexation of islands in the Pacific. On the other hand, it is a mistake not to recognize that our Naval power has more than doubled within the last few years; that the case of any emergency beyond our present resources is the very rare case; that until it comes ships will be gradually taken out of commission and put into reserve in order to reduce running expenses, and that a due regard is necessary to the relation of the National expenditures to the National revenues. The department therefore recommends that the authorization of new ships by the coming Congress, be limited to one battleship for the Pacific coast, where, after the five now under construction, are completed, there will be only two, while on the Atlantic there will be seven; and also to a few torpedo boats and torpedo boat destroyers, both of which are comparatively of little cost, and more of which are desirable in order to bring this swift, mobile, and handily effective arm of the service up to its place in the general scheme for coast defense."

Senator Pritchard, of North Carolina, Chairman of the Committee that is, under a Senate resolution, investigating the workings of the civil service law, says the Committee will resume work during the first week of the session of Congress, paying particular attention to the internal revenue service, and that its report will probably be submitted to the Senate early in January. Senator Pritchard will not attempt to say what the report of the Committee will be, further than that he thinks it will probably recommend modification of existing rules, but his personal opinions, which he freely gives, are believed to be about what are held by a majority of the Committee, and probably are in line with the report that will be made. He said: "A too broad extension of the civil service law is calculated to weight it down and render it unpopular, thereby endangering its continuance. A good principle to adopt would be that a scholastic examination is proper to determine the fitness of persons for clerical positions, but such a test is not suitable to determine the fitness of a man to fill a position where the duties are executive. The idea that the law is a sort of a blanket to cover everything is very unpopular."

Ex-Speaker Keifer, of Ohio, is renewing old acquaintances in Washington. He says he isn't in active politics, but tries to know what's going on. Of Ohio matters he says: "Senator Hanna will be elected, if he lives, no possible combination can be made to beat him," and of the silver question: "It is a very effete question in section. It is seldom that you hear any mention of the subject in Ohio, and out in Nebraska, where I visit my oldest son occasionally, I observe that there is really but little interest taken in the 16 to 1 idea. It is true that the Republicans were beaten this year in Nebraska, but it was merely a rebuke administered by the voters on account of the conduct of former Republican State officials. Later, you will see Nebraska getting back into the Republican column and the same will be true of Kansas, where the furore over free silver, has, think, permanently abated."

Leo Pleased with Keane.

ROME, Nov. 29.—Archbishop Keane, former rector of the Catholic University at Washington, was received by the Pope to-day. His holiness congratulated the Bishop upon the abnegation with which, in a letter to the Pope, he renounced his claim to be included in the list of candidates for appointment to the Archbishopric of New Orleans. The Pope also congratulated Archbishop Keane upon the series of sermons in English, which he commenced yesterday, upon the occasion of the advent services at the Church of St. Silvestro, in Capite, a venerable church of Rome, erected in honor of John the Baptist, a piece of whose head is still preserved there.

The church is now in the possession of the English Roman Catholics. The subject of Archbishop Keane's sermon was the Incarnation.

Food For Klondyke Region.

Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 29.—E. E. Chamberlain, of this city, has just returned from Lake Linderman, where he went to meet James McKay, who now owns and runs the largest land transportation business in the Yukon basin. He was the first man to make a winter trip from Circle City to Juneau, January, 1895-96. His teams now run all winter between Circle City, Dawson, and the mouth of the Pelly River. His last trip to Juneau was by boat as far as Lake Bennett.

Chamberlain says if there is danger of famine he believes McKay has teams and facilities enough to haul supplies stored at Fort Yukon to Dawson as fast as they will be needed.

DOUBLE DEALING

Double dealing like so many other expressions of the Anglo-Saxon language has different meanings. This time 'tis the double dealing of the little conqueror. Doan's Kidney Pills—to be more correct—the double healing. One member of a family tests them and like disease the infection spreads—another tries them—the result is the same, a cure. Read the statement that follows made by

Mr. Curtis Johnson of 583 Bishop street, Freight and Truck man, who says:" I had backache and lameness across my loins for a year or more. At times the lameness was so acute I could lift nothing and if I stooped it was impossible for me to straighten up. When driving there was a steady aching over my kidneys the whole time and I had a dull, tired feeling which took away all my ambition. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills from F. Pott Green's drug store and they soon freed me from the whole combination of troubles and did it quickly and thoroughly. My wife was also suffering from a tiresome, grinding backache and she used Doan's Kidney Pills and they invigorated her generally. She now speaks of them as highly as I do. We never came across any remedy which surpassed Doan's Kidney Pills."

THE KAISER MURDER.

Confession Alleged to Be Made By Lizzie DeKalb.

WAS BETRAYED BY A LOVER

Tells How Mrs. Kaiser Was Murdered By James A. Clemmer While Her Husband Held the Woman in the Buggy.

THE TRIAL WILL BE SENSATIONAL

NORRISTOWN, Pa., November 28.—Following upon the arrest in Newark, N. J., of James A. Clemmer, charged with complicity in the murder of Mrs. Emma P. Kaiser, comes the story of an alleged confession by Lizzie DeKalb, declaring that the actual killing was done by Clemmer and not by Charles O. Kaiser, husband of the murdred woman, who is under sentence of death for the crime. It is said that the woman was prompted to confess by readiug the confession of Mrs. Augusta Nack in the Guldensuppe case in New York.

According to Chief of Police William Rodenbaugh, of Norristown, the DeKalb woman had resolutely maintained her innocence until she became deeply interested in the Thorn-Nack case. Its effect on her became apparent when she sent for an official of the district attorney's office, to whom she said:

"I find myself in the same position as Mrs. Nack and I don't purpose to be caught any more than she was. I was betrayed into your hands by a sneaking lover, who decoyed me from Trenton and I'm not going to put my neck in a noose to save Clemmer."

This is all said to have occurred sometime ago, and it was through the revelations made by her that Clemmer was captured. She exhibited letters from him showing that he was living on Mulberry street, in Newark, under the name of Harry E. Young, and earning a living by canvassing. She asserts that Clemmer killed Mrs. Kaiser, while Kaiser held her struggling in his arms.

The party started from Norristown, she said, for the ostensible purpose of delivering to a customer some miles away a crayon portrait made by Kaiser, who was in that business. They rode in two buggies, Mr. and Mrs. Kaiser in one and Clemmer and Lizzie DeKalb in the other. Before reaching their destination, however, the couples separated with the understanding that Clemmer and Miss DeKalb were to overtake the Kaisers on the upper Merion road on the way home.

Continuing the woman said:

"At the appointed place we saw the Kaisers' buggy ahead, amoving slowly. We krove up close and Clemmer jumped out, leaving me to drive. He started to overtake them on foot. He had a revolver and was shivering with fear, He gave the signal and the Kaiser buggy stopped.

"At the same instant Kaiser threw his arm around his wife's neck and ducked his head. She struggled frantically and Clemmer, watching the terrible scene from his place beside the buggy, lost his nerve and hesitated. Kaiser saw this and hissed at him: 'Shoot, you dog, or I'll kill every one of you.' Clemmer then pushed the revolver close to the woman's ear and fired Her struggles ceased instantly and she fell over dead."

According to the woman's story, the dashboard of the buggy was so scratched and the carpet so disarranged that they decided to change carriages to avert suspicion. The body was placed in the buggy vacated by Clemmer and Miss DeKalb and to strengthen Kaiser's subsequent story that highwaymen had shot his wife, he made Clemmer shoot him in the arm, afterwards binding up the slight flesh wound thus inflicted. Kaiser got in the buggy and drove to Norristown with the corpse, while Clemmer and Miss DeKalb drove away in the other buggy.

Kaiser's story of the supposed attack, robbery and killing by highwaymen is well remembered. The truth of it was suspected from the first and a day or two afterwards, when the revolver was found on the road, with the watch and other articles alleged to have been stolen, the husband was arrested.

As soon as this news reached Clemmer and Miss DeKalb they fled. The woman was caught in Philadelphia about three weeks ago and was given a partial hearing which was continued to December 20. Her confession is said to have been kept secret so that Clemmer might not learn of his danger and leave the country.

Chiefof Police Rodenbaugh has returned from Newark and says the identification of Clemmer is complete. He will be brought here as soon as the proper forms of extradition law have been complied with, His trial, as well as that of Lizzie DeKalb, which will be held separately, will, in the light of recent developments, probably prove to be as sensational as the Thorn-Nack case, with which it has so many features in common.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Nov. 30.—There were no sensational developments to-day in the Clemmer-DeKalb-Kaiser murder story. The alleged confession of Miss Lizzie DeKalb which District Attorney Strasburger said he would give out for publication within twenty-four hours has not yet materialized. Counsel Miss DeKalb said this afternoon that the latter had told the district attorney all she knew about the murder. He said that his client would be held as an accessory.

At 2.15 this afternoon Miss DeKalb was taken from the jail for a drive over the scene from the murder, along the old Gulf Mills road. She was accompanied by District Attorney Strasburger, ex-District Attorney Holland. her council, Mr. Jenkins, and Chief of Police Rodenbaugh. No stop was made until the place where Mrs. Kaiser's watch was found was reached. The party here halted for a few seconds. The next stop was made near where the murder of Mrs. Kaiser is supposed to have been committed. Miss DeKalb showed no trace of nervousness during the trip along the route where the foul crime was perpetrated. The party drove on to Gulf Mills and returned to Bridgeport, on the opposite side of the river from Norristown, via the river road, the route supposed to have been taken by Clemmer and Miss DeKalb on the night the murder was committed.

None of the parties would discuss the trip, but it is supposed that it was taken in order to give Miss DeKalb an opportunity to corroborate the facts of the confession which she is said to have made to the district attorney and to detail the enactments of the tragedy.

Extradition papers were drawn up to-day and placed in the hands of Chief Rodenbaugh to-night. The chief will go to Harrisburg to-morrow morning and secure the signature of Governor Hastings and will then go direct to Newark, where the papers will be served on Clemmer.

Word was received from Newark to-day to the effect that William Ledane, a personal friend of Clemmer's, had made the statement that Clemmer had told him in confidence facts which, when repeated in court and backed up by witnesses, will prove beyond a doubt that Clemmer was a long distance from the scene of the murder on the night it occurred. Ledane is working day and night gathering facts in behalf of Clemmer.

When the latter was told to-day that Miss DeKalb had made a confession, he said: "If she tells the truth I have nothing to fear. She cannot say anything that will in any way injure my case."

Clemmer said to-day nothing which he has said to the police of Newark will incriminate him in any manner whatsoever.

Prisoners in Open Revolt.

Princeton, Ind., Nov. 26.—Nineteen prisoners confined in the Gibson County jail declared themselves in open revolt against Sheriff Murphy to-day. For several days ugly threats have been made by the prisoners, and the Sheriff had been warned. This morning the men declared they would have more food or kill the Sheriff. A posse of deputies was placed outside the jail while Sheriff Murphy entered alone.

As soon as he closed the door all the prisoners, headed by John Boger, a notorious criminal, rushed upon him and were about to carry out their threats when the posse rescued the Sheriff. A fierce fight then occurred between Boger and Murphy, and Boger was beaten almost into insensibility and then thrown into a cell.

When the prisoners saw their leader worsted they were suppressed without further trouble. Boger says he will kill Murphy.

Scrofula

Face Broke Out With Sores—Weak and Sickly Until Hood's Sarsaparilla Made Him Well.

"My little son was afflicted with scrofula sores and he was weak and sickly. Our physician recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla and I bought a bottle. Before he had taken all of this bottle his face began to break out with sores and one side of his face was nearly all one solid sore. I continued giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla until he had taken two bottles. The sores were then healed and he has been well and hearty ever since." Z. W. SMITH, Big Shanty, Pennsylvania.

"Everything I ate seemed to produce gas in my stomach. I was growing worse and friends advised me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. When I had taken four bottles I was able to eat and feel no distress. I could attend to my household duties without the fatigue I formerly felt." ADA MCVICKAR, White Hall, Pa.

A Needle in a Cat's Head.

Mr. Rush Larimer has one of the prettiest maltese cats that can be found in Bellefonte, and every person who would go into his grocery store could not help becoming fast friends with it, as she was always in a playful humor.

About five weeks ago the cat began to mew and cry and whenever any person would go near her she would get very angry. On Tuesday a lady was doing some shopping in the above mentioned store and in some way began to fondle the cat when she exclaimed, "Why this cat has a tooth coming through its jaw."

With further investigation it was found that the cat while playing had swallowed a thread nearly a yard long, with a needle attached to it, and during all this time it had been suffering the most excruciating pain. Of course the needle and thread were both extracted and the cat is as lively as ever.

His Wife in the Cogs.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Nov. 28.—While Caleb Whitfield, who operates the roller mill in Bedford county, Pa., was down stairs Saturday afternoon attending to the rollers he noticed that the large drawing belt suddenly slacked. He ran up stairs to investigate the cause, and was horrified to find his wife wound up in the cog gearing, where eight wheels ran together.

Mrs. Whitefield was unable to move a muscle and was being choked until she was black in the face. Her husband immediately stopped the machinery, and it was some minutes before he was able to extricate his wife. The woman had been passing through the mill when she got to near the wheels and her clothing caught in them. A minute more and she would have been ground to atoms. As it was, she was seriously injured and may not recover.

Insurgent Raids.

HAVANA. Nov. 28.—On the night of November 23 a band of insurgents entered the town of Santa Maria del Rosario, Havana province, and, under cover of darkness, remained three hours, during which time they plundered one store. At sunrise the invaders retired and took up a position upon the neighboring heights. A sergeant of the garrison and twelve privates, while reconnoitering, came upon the enemy and were met with a volley of musketry, resulting in the loss of the sergeant and three privates, who were wounded.

A portion of the insurgent column, commanded by Col. Gayo, led by Capt. Blanco, recently raided Pano Viejo, a suburb of Pinar del Rio city. Favored by the darkness of the night, the raiders succeeded in passing the guards and entering the place, where they sacked three stores. They retired at 4 o'clock in the morning, taking with them considerable booty. The official account of the affair says that Ramon Velasquez, his wife and their 2-months old babe were macheted by the insurgents, and that they also killed Carlos Arango, who had acted as guide for the Spanish general, Godor.

INTERESTING LETTERS.

The following interesting letters were received by Dr. Hartman. Columbus, Ohio, from thankful women: Mrs. L. A. Adams, Bearden, Tenn. writes: "I can gladly recommend Dr. Hartman's wonderful remedies. They are all any housewife needs with the books sent free treating on the different ailments. I have used Pe-ru-na for four years and it never fails to give relief if taken in time. Whenever I feel done up it helps me wonderfully. In cases of colds, chills, la grippe, if taken in hot water, it acts like a charm. I can recommend it for pains in the back, cold hands and feet. You will save doctor bills by the use of Dr. Hartman's wonderful medicines."

Miss Linnie Wiggins, Berlin Heights, Ohio, writes: "I suffered with catarrh of the nose, head and throat for three years. I could get no relief until I began taking Pe-ru-na. I took three bottles. It has done wonders. Independent of curing my catarrh, it has greatly improved my general health. I cannot describe the change. Any one suffering from catarrh and knowing that it can be cured would be very unwise not to take Dr. Hartman's advice. Follow directions. Pe-ru-na does the rest."

Cubans Render Thanks.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 30—The Spanish minister makes public the following dispatch from Dr. Congosto, the Spanish consul at Philadelphia, but who is now in Cuba on a mission for his government:

"The terms in which home rule is conceded have produced an affect which cannot be improved upon. A commission of the home rule and reformist parties has thanked the governor general and assured him of their adhesions to the institution.

"The same has been done by the chamber of commerce and other corporations, who have telegraphed to Madrid that the sincerity of the government has raised public spirit. Everyone expects immediate good results in favor of pacification.

That "Woman in Black."

NORRISTOWN, Pa., November 29.—Lizzie DeKalb, the mysterious "woman in black' of the Kaiser murder case, made a statement at the county jail here today in the presence of J. P. Hale Jenkins, her counsel; District Attorney Jacob A. Strassburger, Attorney James B. Holland and Chief of Police Rodenbaugh, admitting that she was out riding with James A. Clemmer on the night of October 28, 1896, when Mrs. Charles O. Kaiser, jr., was murdered, but denying that she had any foreknowledge that the crime was to be committed, or that she knew anything whatever about it until the fact of the murder was known to all the world.

The woman'sstatement will be made public in due course. From those who heard it made, however, it has been learned that in it she seeks only to exculpate herself from knowledge of or participation in the murder and that she implicates no one. Her counsel says it is merely a statement of what will be claimed in her defense, and that with it or despite it he expects to see his client eventually go free.

Attorney Jenkins lays great stress upon the fact that "This is the only statement Miss DeKalb has ever made; and that it must not be called a confession, for she admits no foreknowledge of the crime."

People who really want to pay their debts in depreciated dollars should remove to Mexico. The silver dollars of that country have fallen 20 per cent. in value in the past year, and the man who owed $1,000 a year ago can pay it with $890 worth of silver now. This is a condition that would delight the people who last year were insisting upon an opportunity to pay debts in depreciated dollars.

The receipts from the new tariff law now show an increase over the receipts of the Wilson law at a corresponding date last year. The Treasury officials expect by the first of the year that the receipts will be sufficient to meet current expenses of the Government. This will be a novel experience to such clerks as have been in the Treasury Department only since the beginning of Cleveland's last administration.

SPRUNG A SENSATION.

The Paris Figaro Publishes Letters Which Cause Comment,

RELATE TO THE DREYFUS AFFAIR

Alleged to Have Been Written By Comte Esterhazy Who is Accused of Being the Cause of the Condemnation.

CONTINUING THE INVESTIGATION

PARIS, Nov. 28.—The Figaro has caused a sensation today in connection with the Dreyfus affair by publishing several letters purporting to have been written by Comte Ferdinand Walsin Esterhazy, who has been accused by M. Scheurer-Kestner, one of the vice presidents of the senate, of being the author of the letter which led to the condemnation of Dreyfus. In one of them, after expressing his intention to enter the Turkish service, Comte Esterhazy is represented as saying: "I shall not leave without having played a trick of my own on those amiable Frenchmen."

Other passages illustrating the character of the letters follows:

"Our cowardly and ignorant great chiefs will go once more to people German prisons."

"I should be perfectly happy if I were told I was to be killed tomorrow as a captain of Uhlans sabreing Frenchmen."

"I am capable of great things or crimes if that could avenge me. I would not harm a little dog, but I would have a hundred thousand French killed at pleasure."

Comte Esterhazy proceeds to say that "Frenchmen are not worthy of cartridges intended to kill them," and he conjures up a "Dream of Festivity" in the shape of the pillage of Paris by a hundred thousand drunken soldiers.

Interviewed by reporters today as to the publication in the Figaro, of letters purporting to be of his authorship, Comte Esterhazy displayed great indignation and declared that they were forged by the friends of Dreyfus, who he said, had taken words and sentences from his letters and pieced them together by a process with which he was acquaintanted. He said also that he had been warned some days back that such a publication would be made.

LeJour doubts the authenticity of the letters. Shortly after Figaro appeared Comte Esterhazy visited General Pellieux, who was appointed by General Saussier, the military governor of Paris, to conduct the investigation of the charges which have been brought against him and protested against what he alleges is a "fresh culumny." A semi-official note tonight says that General Pellieux's investigation was almost finished, but that he will now examine into the authenticity of these letters that he will act with absolute impartiality and see to it that satisfaction is given to the honor of the army, to justice and to truth.

General Pollieux this afternoon interrogated General Picquart, who was summoned from Tunis in connection with the Dreyfus affair and whose statements were represented to be the basis of the accusations originally brought against Comte Esterhazy.

As cabled to the Associated Press Saturday, the Figaro, of that day, says that General Pollieux had seized letters written by Comte Esterhazy to several persons, in which the writer had insulted and violently attacked the heads of the French army. According to the Intrasigient of Saturday, General Picquart had been sentenced to thirty days' detention in a fortress for his reflections on Comte Esterhazy. Previous to the Figaro's publication of the letters referred to in the foregoing dispatch, it was understood in Paris that the result of General Pellieux's inquiry would be announced tomorrow (Tuesday) to General Billot, minister of war.

THORN CONVICTED.

The Jury Convicts the Accomplice of Mrs. Nack.

NEW YORK, November 30.—Martin Thorn was to-day convicted of murder in the first degree in killing William Guldensuppe, his predecessor in the affections of Mrs. Augusta Nack, at Woodside. L. I., on June 25. At the request of Thorn's counsel, the passing of the death sentence was deferred until next Friday morning. Thorn heard the jurymen polled on their verdict, and listened to each of them sealing his fate with a nervously uttered "yes." Thorn gazed at each one of them and appeared to be less impressed with the solemnity of the occasion than any one in the jury box. His face never changed color during the trying ordeal, but with lips firmly compressed and jaws hard set, he faced the judge, jury and court room, full of spectators, with well feigned stoicism.

About three weeks ago Thorn's first trial on the charge of murder was begun in the Queens county court at Long Island City, but owing to the illness of a juror it had to be abandoned after three days. A second trial opened a week ago last Monday, and counting out three days on which the court did not sit the trial consumed only six days.

Mrs. Nack's testimony during the mistrial made it compulsory for Thorn's lawyers to change their line of defense in the second trial, and they immediately adopted the only plausible defense that could be conceived under such trying circumstances. They made a direct charge against Mrs. Nack and insisted that her alleged confession was a lie, and that she herself was the instigator and perpetrator of the murder, Thorn being ignorant of the killing until after Guldensuppe had been shot by Mrs. Nack. The woman was not procured during the second trial, but Thorn went on the stand and sustained all the assertions made by his lawyers as to the midwife's guilt. His story, if anything, was more dramatically told than that of Mrs. Nack but, as the verdict shows, it did not have the desired effect upon the jurymen.

When court opened this morning Lawyer Howe began summing up in behalf of Thorn. He made an earnest appeal to the jury for his client, and it was thought by many who had the privilege of hearing him that his efforts would leave a very great impression on the jurors. Mr. Youngs followed and held the attention of the jurors throughout his speech which lasted almost an hour. Judge Maddox's charge was carefully prepared and well delivered. It was acknowledged by the lawyers for the prisoner to be extremely lucid, fair and impartial. The jury remained in deliberation just three hours, when they sent word to the judge that they were ready to render a verdict. The fact of their remaining out so long gave hope to the defense, but as each one of them took his seat in the jury box his facial expression told very distinctly the result of the three hours' conference.

"Guilty of the charge preferred" were the ominous words which fell from the lips of the foreman of the jury, and, although this verdict was not an unexpected one, it hit the defendant's counsel very hard as they had built up the hope for a disagreement or a verdict in the minor degree. Thorn's lawyers moved for a new trial on the ground that the verdict was not in accordance with the weight of evidence, but the motion was overruled.

Just what will become of Mrs. Nack has not been made known by the Queens county authorities, but it is generally thought that the people will accept of a plea from her which will not call for capital punishment.

No women were admitted to the court room to-day. After discussion on a technical point a recess was taken to permit the jurors to go to Woodside cottage, the scene of the murder. They went by special trolley car. The inspection occupied but eight minutes. No one was permitted upon the premises during the time the jurors were in the cottage.

When the party had returned Mr. Howe began to sum up for the defense. He made much of Mrs. Nack's alleged perfidy to the man she professed to love, and commented on the fact that having had Mrs. Nack on the witness stand in the trial which was terminated by the illness of a juror, the prosecution did not see fit to again take her evidence.

Gotha was characterized by counsel as a Judas, ready to betray his master or his friend for any paltry sum. Mr. Howe said that the jury must have seen that it was impossible for one person to do the cutting up of the body as it was accomplished. Mrs. Nack's knowledge of anatomy, acquired in her profession, stood her in good stead when she was cutting up the corpse of her former lover, Guldensuppe.

Mr, Howe insisted that Thorn should be acquitted.

District Attorney Youngs followed with his final address and Judge Maddox charged the jury. He explained the law governing evidence and defined the difference between murder and manslaughter.

The jury retired from the court room at 2.25 o'clock. They returned with their verdict at 5.30 o'clock. Mr. Howe's motion for a new trial was promptly denied. The jury stood eleven to one for conviction on the first six ballots and agreed on the seventh.

When Martin Thorn was led back to his cell after the conviction he admitted that the verdict was just, and he and not Mrs. Nack killed Guldensuppe. This acknowledgment of guilt was made while Thorn's cell in the jail was being prepared for him. During the trial Thorn has been under charge of Police Captain Methven, of Flushing. Captain Methven had him under his watchful eye when the jail officials reached the cell Thorn is to occupy for a day or two. While this was being done Thorn talked with the police captain. He said:

"I am glad it is over and the verdict given. I am convicted, and I am contented. It was I who killed Guldensuppe, and I cut up his body. Every word that Mrs. Nack said upon the stand was substantially correct. When I was on the stand I lied when telling the story as I did, but I lied to clear myself. It is no use carrying it any further. I am guilty and am convicted. It is what I expected and what I suppose people think I deserve, and perhaps I do."

When a mother once uses it, she continues its use right along; because, she found, for curing cough, cold, croup and whooping-cough Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup unequalled by any other similar medicine. The great business improvement which the country has seen since last July, is due largely to the feeling among merchants and business men that the new tariff will furnish both protection and revenue sufficient to run the Government. This simple restoration of confidence has brought forth millions of dollars and given employment to thousands of hands at improved wages. It has caused unused chimneys to pour forth black smoke and idle wheels to revolve merrily. The new tariff is in operation, and its revenues are constantly increasing month by month and week by week. Yet it is to be expected the Democrats will say that the Dingley law has nothing to do with the improvement.

—Messrs. Ploof, Tucker and W. O. Graham, of Crawford Co., Pa., raised specimen sugar beets from seed distributed by the Department of Agriculture, and forwarded same to Washington for analysis by the U. S. chemist. We hope the test may prove them rich in saccharine matter. It would be a great benefit to the agricultural class, should it be demonstrated that we can produce at a profit that which now costs us $100,000,000 to import annually.

The reports from Mexico which indicate that it takes nearly 2½ Mexican silver dollars to buy what one American dollar will purchase shows something of the distressing conditions to which the laboring class of that country are reduced under free silver. A report by a special commission sent to Mexico by the Trade and Labor Assembly at Chicago last fall shows that teamsters get $1 per day in Mexican money in the City of Mexico, while those in the city of Chicago get $1.75 per day in American dollars, which, as indicated, are worth nearly 2½ times as much as the Mexican dollar. Street-car drivers get 75 cents per day in the City of Mexico in depreciated, and in the City of Chicago $2.25 per day in good money. Printers in Mexico $1.25 per day, in Chicago $3. Pressmen in Mexico $1.20 per day, in Chicago $3.50. Shoemakers in Mexico $1.25, in Chicago $2.50. Carpenters in Mexico $1.25 per day, in Chicago $2.80. Bricklayers in Mexico $1.25, in Chicago $4 per day. Laborers in Mexico 37½ cents per day, in Chicago $1.25. When it is remembered that these wages quoted in Mexico are paid in alleged dollars which are worth but about 43 cents as compared with our dollars, which are worth 100 cents, the contrast in earning capacity is something appalling and is not a recommendation for the free-coinage proprosition which the Democrats of a few states still have the hardihood to urge.

Well may the oppressed, poverty stricken wage earners cry in anguish, "My God, how long, how long!"

Solomon teaches that there is a time for all things; a time to speak, and a time to be silent; but when we proceed to the 7th chapter of Ecclesiastes, and perceive all the wickedness that is done under the sun, how that the weak are oppressed by the powerful, the greed of some devours the good of others, and know that these things are, and that they are done in the name of Justice, then we conclude that this is not the time to keep silence.

AN INTERESTING SPEECH.

Address of Hon. Leonard Rhone, Worthy Master of State Grange.

DELIVERED AT HARRISBURG, PA.

To the Officers and Members of the Pennsylvania State Grange—The Growth of the Order—Agricultural Education

IMPORTANT SUBJECTS DISCUSSED.

HARRISBURG, PA., NOV. 9, 1897.

Officers and Members of the Grange:

In obedience with the instructions at the last annual session, the State Grange has been convened, in special session, for the purpose of properly receiving the National Grange, which will hold its 31st annual session in this city; also for the consideration of such business as may come before it for the general good of the Order.

The meeting of the National Grange in our midst is an event of great honor to our organization, and will be appreciated, not only by the thousands of Patrons of Pennsylvania, but by those of our neighboring States. It is also an event of great privilege to the individual membership of the Order, as it will enable every Patron not only to attend the sessions of the National Grange, but to avail himself of the Degree of Ceres, which has no precedent, and is the highest honor bestowed by our Order. It is only conferred by the Assembly of Demeter, which is the highest tribunal known to our organization.

THE GROWTH OF THE ORDER.

A steady and satisfactory growth of the Order has been maintained throughout the State during the year. Where the Grange has not made satisfactory progress, it has been nearly always owing to local causes, such as dissension among members, indifference of officers to their duties, with consequent lack of discipline, followed by a loss of interest. No Grange is liable to fail where the laws and usages of the Order are observed, and where the work of the lodge room is done as contemplated by the Order and its beautiful ritualism. It is truthfully said in our installation ceremony that: "The Order of Patrons of Husbandry is the only association whose teachings accompany its members in their daily pursuits. They form part of the farmer's life. They do not call him from his work to put his mind upon any other subject, but furnish recreation in his daily duties, and by cheerful instruction lighten and elevate his labor. These teachings are the loftiest man can seek. The Subordinate Grange and its instructive Degree work is in perfect harmony with farm life. Where the Grange hall is properly furnished and decorated it is a fairy bower and veritable Eden in instruction and attraction; but, as with our first parents, it is left to our volition whether we shall possess and enjoy its pleasures. This ideal standard of Subordinate Grange can only be attained by the officers and members making the work a study, and by repeated rehearsals bring about a perfect and harmonious rendition of its work. This has been so repeatedly urged upon the Subordinate Granges by those in authority that there is no longer any excuse for the neglect of those preparatory meetings for the instruction of officers. Adopt these schools of instruction, and your Grange will be sure to succeed; neglect them, and the tendency will be to fall to decay.

POMONA GRANGES.

Pomona Granges should be to the Subordinate Granges of the county the same centralized organization and power the State Grange sustains to the organization in the State. I have so frequently referred to the importance of this that you will pardon me should I repeat what I may have said on some former occasion.

A complete record of the Subordinate Granges in the county should be kept in the offices of the Master and Secretary, so that a thorough and prompt system of communication can be maintained between the Subordinate and Pomona Granges of the county, and thus not only maintain the membership of the Pomona Grange, but also to support and strengthen the Subordinate Granges in their respective jurisdictions, thereby enabling the Pomona Grange to act promptly upon any question that may effect the welfare of the agricultural class in their respective counties. Pomona Granges, ranking higher than Subordinate Granges, should, therefore, be made models in the perfection of Grange work. The Degree of Pomona is unsurpassed in the grandeur of its imagery, its sublimity of thought is unexcelled when properly taught, and calculated to arouse the profound emotion.

A Pomona Grange that does its work thoroughly will soon secure for itself a reputation and dignity that a Fifth Degree Grange should possess, which will attract members and retain them permanently. It should also organize a school of instruction for officers of Subordinate Granges, where the Subordinate Degree work could be correctly taught by holding a series of special county Grange meetings in different localities during the year.

The fees and dues of the Pomona Grange are so inconsiderable, one dollar for males and fifty cents for females and only forty cents dues for the year, that any Fourth Degree member can avail himself of its privileges without being a burden. We should be Patrons from principle and with an honest desire enter the court of Pomona, and thus help to promote the best interest of the Order by building up a strong, centralized organization of farmers in the respective counties possessing capital resources. Thus a Pomona Grange with a membership of four or five hundred would secure to itself an annual income of one hundred and fifty to two hundred dollars, thereby possessing the financial means within itself, whereby a thorough organization could be secured of the county or entire territory embracing its jurisdiction.

Organizations, like individuals, should set aside something for the future as an evidence of thrift and frugality. The Grange that sets aside part of its earnings in investments that will earn something in addition to the principal will surely amass a competency and home in due time. It will also, sooner or later, accumulate the means whereby it will not only become the social center, but a financial power in the community.

AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION.

The Grange has always been foremost in advocating a system of schools equal in efficiency to the technical schools for other classes, for the training of those who may wish to qualify themselves for agricultural pursuits. After years of agitation in preparing public sentiment for their establishment, much progress has been made in this direction and several schools of this character have been established; the principal one at the State College, where those that desire, after finishing their studies at the public schools, can enter and specially prepare themselves with a better technical knowledge of agricultural pursuits. But with the great majority of farmers, when they once enter upon the business of the farming, they can no longer give their time to the school room, but must deal with the stern everyday affairs of life, which class composes the number of the members of the Grange; to assist these the State has established an Agricultural Experiment Station, where new and enlarged methods of production are applied, and the result published for the use of the practical farmer. This information is now transmitted to farmers by free bulletins through the Subordinate Granges of the State. A Chautauqua Agricultural Reading Course has also been established. For more detailed information I refer you to the reports of the College and Experiment Station.

CO-OPERATION.

The principal of co-operative buying and selling is one of the fundamental doctrines of the Grange as taught in our Declaration of Purposes. "For our business interests we desire to bring producers and consumers, farmers and manufacturers, into the most direct and friendly relations possible. Hence, we must dispense with a surplus of middlemen, not that we are unfriendly to them, but we do not need them. Their surplus and their exactions diminish our profits. We wage no aggressive warfare against any other interests whatever."

Owing to the long continued depression in agriculture as a business, farmers have been driven into organization to protect themselves by meeting together, talking together, working together, buying and selling together for their mutual advancement and protection, as occasion may require.

Through these councils of the Grange have been developed the most economic and practical system of co-operation in buying supplies and marketing farm products known to modern organizations, and this, too, without converting the farmer into a merchant or manufacturer, yet so effective, that any member of the Order can buy his supplies at wholesale prices, in broken packages or single implements, without the intervention or extortion of agents. But the arrangement for co-operative selling is more difficult owing to the wide and diversified markets for farm products.

Where there is a local market, the most profitable method of co-operation is for the producer to sell direct to the consumer at the town market as being the least complicated and inexpensive; but for Patrons that live remote from the markets and must ship long distances, it has become necessary for the State Grange to arrange for reliable commission agencies, which are not always easy to secure, but it is the only feasible method available for this class of farmers, and could be more generally utilized, with profit, as thousands of dollars worth of farm products annually go to waste because the farmer has not availed himself of this method of co-operation. But to attain the best result by this system the farmer must acquaint himself with the best methods of preparing and packing his produce so that it will reach the market in a good and inviting condition, and here is where Farmers' Institutes might do better work by instructing the producer in better methods of marketing. With the high development in the present methods of agricultural production, it is not so much a question with the farmer how to produce a crop as it is how to find a profitable market, therefore our organization should address itself to this subject with all the available force at its command.

GRANGE TRADE BULLETIN.

The effort that has been made during the past few years to establish a Grange Trade Journal, to do for American farmer what Dun and Bradstreets are doing for the banking and commercial interests, has made a satisfactory beginning and has been maintained without entailing any expense upon the State Grange; but a Grange Trade Journal can no more be maintained without subscribers than can a commercial journal. While the paper has been liberally encouraged by subscription and advertising, the editorial work and mailing has all been done gratuitously with the hope of establishing a Grange Trade Journal that will be a credit to the Order and of incalculable value to its members. During the past two years fifteen thousand free copies have been distributed to the Subordinate Granges and members in the State by your Executive Committee without drawing one dollar from the State Treasury.

GRANGE INSURANCE.

The co-operative system of Grange insurance has been a great success in Pennsylvania. Insuring millions of farm property owned by Patrons. There are now six of these Grange companies in successful operation in this State, and where insurance is confined to the membership of the Order, it has been a source of great strength to the Grange, as it compels the member to maintain his good standing in the Grange to hold insurance valid in these companies. The cost of insurance, by reason of their economical management, has been a third lower than in other companies. The State Grange should now require a statement from these companies, annually, for publication in the Journal of Proceedings for the information of the members of the Order, just as is now required of the Patrons' Relief Association of Pennsylvania.

LEGISLATION.

The Legislative Department of the State Grange has been a source of great usefulness in directing legislation in our State. While we wish that more had been accomplished in this direction, and while there have been frequently grievous disappointments, yet we have good reason to be encouraged with the satisfactory progress that has been achieved.

When the State Grange a year ago instructed its Legislative Committee to prepare a bill and submit it to the Legislature, backed by all the Subordinate Grange of the State, to bring about a more equitable distribution of the appropriation for the public schools, it was confronted with the fact that the majority of cities and large towns would oppose the legislation for the reason that they would lose heavily by the proposed change; as, for instance, Philadelphia about $180,000.000 and other cities and towns in the same proportion. But armed, as the Grange was, with justice and equity inscribed on its banners, it went forth to conquer and succeeded, and not only did justice triumph, but rendered substantial aid for the education of the children of the farm.

The maintenance of the Public School Apropriation of $5,500,000.000 was largely owing to the timely protest of the Grange and the sentiment it created against a reduction which was so much urged on the score of necessity.

In road legislation the Grange was for progress and improvement, but was opposed to a system of road legislation that would have put the entire cost upon the farms of the State, therefore confronted the road theorist and bicycle combine with the alternative of putting up their share of the money or do without good roads until the tax should be distributed equitably, and held the law in reserve until it should receive a $1,000,000.000 appropriation.

The situation as to revenue legislation has not materially changed. The report on the Tax Conference Revenue Bill by the Auditor General has not yet been published, and your committee was confronted with this obstacle during the entire session of the late Legislature. Your committee appeared before the Ways and Means Committee of the House, and made earnest protest against the delay and urged the importance of the legislation as not only being a relief to the State Treasury, but to the home-owners of the Commonwealth. Numerous efforts were made by selfish interests to recoup the Treasury by laying additional burdens on the farmer, which was only prevented by the strong agricultural element in the House and an impartial Governor, who had the courage to protest the interest of the people.

The Grange is now as it always has been, the champion of the rights of the agricultural class and all that has been achieved in a legislative way of any importance to the farmer for the last twenty years has been orginated and pushed forward by our organization. Time would not permit to fully review all its legislative work in Pennsylvania, but I cannot forbear to make few statements of facts in corroboration of this assertion. If you will go back to 1882, when the Grange had the great contest in the Legislature over what was known as the Grange or Taggart Tax Bill, our organization wrung from the contest a $5,000.000.00 school appropriation, returned to the counties three-fourths of the personal property tax, amounting to $1,700,000.00, and diverted from the State Treasury to the local governments the entire retail liquor licenses amounting to $3,500,000.00 annually, turning over by this legislation alone to the counties and local governments over $9,000.000.00 annually, which in the past eight years, has aggregated over $72,000,000.00, thus lowering the tax on the farms and homes a like amount.

It has been by the persistent effort of the Grange that anti-oleo legislation has been maintained, which is of incalculable value to the dairy interests of our State.

An organization that has accomplished such wonderful beneficent results for the home-owners of the State should not only receive the hearty support and commendation of all farmers, but of every good citizen of the Commonwealth. I would, therefore, appeal to every Patron to uphold the banner of the Grange as the defender and protector of the farmers' rights.

FINANCE.

The financial condition of the State Grange will not vary much from that of last year, but owing to the fact of some extraordinary expenses incurred for a proper entertainment of the National Grange, great care should be exercised in maintaining the revenues of the State Grange. Therefore no changes can be safely made in our organic law that might impair the State revenues. It is to be hoped that every delegate and every Patron here assembled will do all in their power to make the entertainment of the National Grange creditable to our organization and an honor to our Order. Let every Patron be imbued with a spirit of hospitality, and receive and entertain the delegates and visitors of the National Grange so that they will feel that it was good for them to be among us.

DEATH OF WILLIAM YOCUM.

Since we last met death has invaded our ranks and taken from us our esteemed brother, Wm. Yocum, who served continuously as Treasurer of the State Grange for twenty-one years, being elected at the organization of the State Grange in 1873. He was the embodiment of honor and integrity, having managed the finances of the State Grange during the most trying ordeal, advancing the money as it was needed, frequently from his private means trusting to the honor and integrity of the State Grange to redeem it. But having advanced in years, and knowing the time was near at hand when he would be called up higher, he tendered his resignation as Treasurer of the State Grange in 1893, so that he might have a few leisure hours in the closing years of his life, and died at the advanced age of eighty. Then one by one the leaders in the Grange movement of our State are passing over to their reward; while we mourn their departure, let us honor their memories by following the example they so worthily set before us.

CONCLUSION.

In conclusion, I trust that the spirit of good will and harmony may characterize your deliberations, and that the labors of the session may be productive in strengthening our organization and in binding us together in bonds of fraternal amity.

Fraternally submitted,

LEONARD RHONE.

A New Year's Gift Heralded.

The measureless popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has been the growth of more than a third of a century. As in the past, the coming new year will be ushered in by the appearance of a fresh Almanac, clearly setting forth the nature, uses and operation of this medicine of world wide fame. It is well worth perusal. Absolute accuracy in the astronomical calculations and calendar will, as before, be valuable characteristics, while the reading matter will include statistics, humor and general information, accompanied by admirably executed illustrations. The Almanac is issued from the publishing department of The Hostetter Company at Pittsburg, and will be printed on their presses in English, German, French, Welsh, Norwegian, Sweedish, Holland, Bohemian and Spanish. All druggists and country dealers furnish it without cost.

Girls as Church Ushers.

TRENTON, Nov. 24.—The Rev. Maurice Penfield Fikes, of the First Baptist Church, has introduced in his church a novel feature in the form of girl ushers. Last Sunday was the first time that the experiment was tried. It was necessary to set chairs in the aisles to accommodate the crowd. When the girls started for the money they got it. When counted there was nearly $300 to add to the treasury of the church.

The innovation made by Pastor Fikes does not, however, meet with the approval of his brother preachers.

SLEPT LIKE A CHILD.

Gained Twenty-Seven Pounds in Four Weeks. The Story of a Soldier.

From the Transcript, Peoria, Ill.

No man is better known and liked in that rich tier of Illinois counties, of which Peoria is the centre, than genial Chester S. Harrington, of Princeville, Ill. For many years Mr. Harrington has traveled through the country on profitable journeys as an itinerant merchant, and everywhere he goes he is given a hearty welcome by the people who depend upon his visits for the purchase of the necessaries, and some of the luxuries, of life.

Mr. Harrington is a veteran of the war, and from this fact is made the remarkable experience which he related at the Transcript office recently. His story, telling of the evils of which the Civil War was but the beginning in his own, and in thousands of other cases, was as follows:

"I served three years in the 124th Illinois, enlisting at Kewanee, Ill. I was in Libby Prison, and suffered, like many another Northern soldier. Until recently I was a member of the Princeville Post, of the G.A.R.

"The strain of army life did its work in undermining my health, although the collapse did not come for years. For some time I suffered from general debility and nervousness, so badly that I could not sleep. For fifteen years my sleep was completely broken up. Indigestion, resulted and my misery increased. My eyes began to fail, and as my body lost vitality my mind seemed to give way also. I could scarcely remember events that happened but a few weeks before.

"For two years I was unfitted for business. I was just able to creep around during the greater part of this time, and there were times when I could not get up at all. My brother is a doctor, but all his efforts to help me failed to give me any relief.

I tried a number of remedies, without avail. Finally, having read articles regarding cures that had been effected by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, I decided to try them. That was in 1896. I bought a box and took the pills according to instructions. Just four days later I had the happiest hours I had known for years. That night I went to sleep easily and slept soundly as a child, and awoke refreshed. Three or four weeks after beginning the treatment, when I had taken four boxes of the pills, I found I had increased in weight, from 119 pounds to 146 pounds. This greatly surprised my friends, who thought my case was a hopeless one. I began my work on the road again, and have continued it right along ever since in excellent health.

"Let me tell you a remarkable thing that was a side issue, but a valuable gain to me. I found that while I was taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I had been cured of the smoking habit, which had been formed when I was a boy, six years old, and which had clung to me all these years. The craving for tobacco left me, and I have never experienced it since. I have recommended the pills to many."

(Signed) CHESTER S. HARRINGTON.

Chester S. Harrington, being duly sworn, deposes and says, that the matters contained in the above statement by him signed are true. CHESTER S. HARRINGTON.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, a notary public, this 15th day of July, 1897.

Miss Maggie Hannah
DANVILLE, ILL.
Long Suffering from Headache Cured by Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine.

HEADACHES are the bane of woman's life. Frequently relieved but seldom permanently cured, the ultimate result is continual misery. Miss Maggie Hannah, 521 Chestnut St., Danville, Ill., says in June 1896: "I cannot add to my testimony of last year except that I am well and strong. Two years ago I had such a pain in my head that I ate nothing, was desperately nervous and could not sleep. Other complications peculiar to my sex set in and our physician called another in consultation. They decided I had consumption and must die. I commenced taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and the second night obtained the first nights real sleep in four weeks. I know that Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine saved my life.

DOCTORS DON'T DENY IT.

The frank testimony of a famous physician.

When Dr. Ayer announced his Sarsaparilla to the world, he at once found the physicians his friends. Such a remedy was what they had looked for, and they were prompt to appreciate its merits and prescribe it. Perhaps no medicine—known as a patent medicine—is so generally administered and prescribed by physicians as Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla for blood diseases, and diseases of the skin that indicate a tainted condition of the blood. Experience has proved it to be a specific in such diseases, and sores of long standing, old ulcers, chronic rheumatism, and many other like forms of disease have yielded to the persevering use of Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla after other medicines had utterly failed. The testimonials received from physicians to the value of this remedy would fill a volume. Here is one leaf signed by Rich'd H. Lawrence, M. D., Baltimore, Md.

"It affords me pleasure to bear testimony to the success which your preparation of Sarsaparilla has had in the treatment of cutaneous and other diseases arising from a vitiated condition of the blood. Were it necessary, I might give you the names of at least fifty individuals who have been cured of long-standing complaints simply by the administration of Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla. One very remarkable instance was that of a quite old woman who had lived at Catonsville, near this city. She had been afflicted with the rheumatism for three years, and had taken as she had informed me, more than one hundred dollars' worth of medicine to obtain relief, yet without any beneficial result. I advised her to try a bottle of Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla and told her that if it failed to do her good, I would refund the money. A short time afterward, I learned that it had cured her, and a neighbor of hers similarly afflicted was also entirely relieved of his complaint by its use. This is the universal result of the administration of your Sarsaparilla. It is without exception, the best blood purifier with which I am acquainted."

There is no other similar medicine can show a similar record. Others have imitated the remedy. They can't imitate the record. Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has the friendship of the physician and the favor of the family, because it cures. It fulfills all promises made for it. It has healed thousands of people of the most malignant diseases that can mutilate mankind. Nothing has ever superceded it and nothing ever will until a medicine is made that can show a record of cures greater in number and equal in wonder to those wrought by Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Dr. Ayer's Curebook, a story of cures told by the cured, is sent free on request by the J. C. Ayer Company, Lowell, Mass. Write for it.

LAID TO REST.

The Last Tribute Paid to Lawrence Shivery.

On Thanksgiving afternoon the last sad rites and tribute were paid in honor of Lawrence Shivery who met with such an awful death on Tuesday morning. The house was crowded with sorrowing friends, who by their presence showed their respect and love for the departed one. The choir, composed of Misses Bessie Dorwith, Henrietta Butts, Elsie Weaver, Messrs. Harrison, Walker and Roy McCalmont rendered music which was sweet and impressive. Rev. Jones, his pastor, spoke so very beautifully on the life and character of the young man and it really lifted a good bit of the burden from the hearts of his father and mother. Rev. Dr. Stephens made an earnest talk which was full of love and sympathy for the parents. After the services at the house the body was taken to Meyers cemetery where interment took place. The casket and grave were covered with beautiful cut flowers given by his many friends. The pall-bearers were chosen from among his school mates and most intimate friends. They were Harry Rearick, Budd Hastings, Otto Henderson, Clayton Corman, John Witmer, Edgar Rearick.

EXCITING GAME OF FOOTBALL.

The Academy Once Again Breathes the Air of Victory.

Amidst the jollification and jubilee of Thanksgiving Day; when turkey swayed the millions throughout the land, the foot ball game called for its share of attention by all the schools and colleges. Amidst the countless number of games played on this memorable occasion, the game played between the State College Reserve team and the Bellefonte Academy was one of the most interesting. The State eleven was composed of the best material she had outside of the team.

The Academy beat the Prep team sometime ago, and she celebrated Thanksgiving Day by beating the next to the best team State has. We have no doubt but that the Academy would stand a good chance with State's first eleven,

The game commenced about half-past three with State making a kick off. Otto of the Academy team got the ball and made a fine rush with good interference and Twitmire struck his man so hard that he fell almost paralized. The Academy kept rushing the line continually making good gains, and Curtin, Henderson and Cummings would buck the line and as if they were trying to overthrow the walls of a city. Soon Cummings made a rush that was electrifying. He passed the five yard line and plowed through until he was within one inch of making a touchdown when he was downed. One more rush did the work. Henderson rushed the ball over the line and made a touchdown after a hard struggle. This was the only touchdown made and counted four for our boys. State made another kick-off and Academy got the ball again. The Academy gained continually until they were near the five yard line when the whistle blew ending the first half. State's men were looking worn and exhausted while the Academy boys looked fresh. The rest soon passed by and the game was resumed. The two teams kept waving to and fro like the waves of an ocean, now gaining and then loosing. The Academy would gain right along until it would lose on a kick by State's full back, Thompson. One of these kicks landed the two teams within a third of the distance of the field to State's goal. This distance was regained again by the Academy. At this time State's quarter back Ewing was hurt. It seemed after this as if the whole team had new enthusiasm. Reed is a small fellow, but, oh my! Larkin made a fine rush for the College eleven, everything looked as if he was going to make a touchdown, when he was caught and downed by the Academy's plucky full back, Blair, only a short distance from State's five yard line. State tried hard to make a goal but she never made a gain. This ended a close and exciting game with the Academy victorious by the score of 4 to 0. Those who deserve special mention beside the above named are Elcredge who made a number of good gains, Sellers who played in his usual excellent style, and Charlie Harris of State who put up a snappy game. Every member of the Academy team played to the best of their ability and certainly deserve great credit. The line up was as follows·

Bigger Man Than the President.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 25.—Right Tackle John Outland, was to-night elected captain of the University of Pennsylvania football team, to succeed John H. Minds, who played his last game to-day. Samuel Boyle, left end, whose term will also expire next June, was first elected under the supposition that he intended to take a post-graduate course, but he declined the honor, stating that he would not be in the college next season.

The Cornell teams will not elect a captain until after their return to Ithaca.

Persistent Coughs

A cough which seems to hang on in spite of all the remedies which you have applied certainly needs energetic and sensible treatment. For twenty-five years that standard preparation of cod-liver oil, has proved its effectiveness in curing the trying affections of the throat and lungs, and this is the reason why: the cod-liver oil, partially digested, strengthens and vitalizes the whole system; the hypophosphites act as a tonic to the mind and nerves, and the glycerine soothes and heals the irritation. Can you think of any combination so effective as this?

Be sure you get SCOTT'S Emulsion. See that the man and fish are on the wrapper.

To Joe Woodward.

BY W. T. SPEER.

All is so quiet to-night
As I sit on my rocking chair,
Not a whoop or a sound
From my dear little boy,
Not a rustle on the stair.

Is Joe asleep, or has he gone?
The boy who has no cares,
All is quiet in the room above,
Not a rustle on the stairs.

It seems so quiet to-night at home,
Not a place to unload my cares,
Not a sound of Nell coming thro' the hall,
Not a rustle on the stairs.

And Joe, when life's journey is o'er
And I have no more cares,
I will stand in the hall above us
And help you up the stairs.

MILESBURG MAN KILLED.

Harry Shope Falls Under the Car Wheels and Soon Expires.

A fatal accident which resulted in the death of a bright young man occured on the Reading railroad at West Milton about one o'clock Saturday morning. The victim is Harry Shope, of Milesburg, about twenty-three years old. Shope was of a roving disposition, and he was probably on one of his tramps when he met with the accident which resulted in his death.

The exact particulars are unknown, but it is thought that he attempted to board a freight train near the station at West Milton, and was thrown under the cars. When picked up he was still breathing, although unconscious, and was removed to the hospital at Williamsport. An examination proved that he could not possibly live. Both legs were horribly mangled and crushed above the knees, and his head was badly cut. He lingered until 5.30 o'clock, when he died. His brother-in-law was informed, and he shipped the remains to Milesburg on News express.

Football Men Disappointed.

The members of the Academy eleven were sorely disappointed to receive a telegram Saturday morning at 10:30 that the Williamsport team could not come according to arrangements owing to the fact (?) that the players were disabled in the Thanksgiving day game at Williamsport. The many sports in town were fully as disappointed to hear of the telegram for a very close game had been expected Two years ago the Academy beat the Williamsport boys 2—0. Last year on the Williamsport grounds the Academy team was only beaten by the score of 4—0, the touchdown being made three minutes before the game ended.

This year the Academy is far stronger than last year while the Williamsport eleven which won the State championship on Nov. 25, is considered about as strong. Just hold your tickets friends until next Saturday when it is hoped the supremacy between these two teams can be settled. If the game is not played, of course the money contributed will be refunded.

Killed a White Deer.

One of this season's fortunate hunters is George Lipp, of Huntersville, Lycoming county. Friday, Mr. Lipp was hunting on the mountains near his home and was returning from the hunt with the usual small game that generally falls to hunters thereabouts. As Lipp was decending the mountains there suddenly appeared before him a pure white spike buck. Lipp shot, but the deer, instead of falling, ran a considerable distance. Mr. Lipp was again preparing to shoot when the animal fell. An examination showed that the bullet had entered the front shoulder and pierced the heart. The deer weighed 108 pounds and was a yearling. Mr. Lipp feels justly proud of his game, as a white deer is a scarce article of game. The skin was taken to Williamsport Saturday and offered for sale.—Lock Haven Democrat.

A BOLD ROBBERY.

Shot Him With Intention of Killing Him.

Wednesday morning a bold and outrageous robbery took place on one of our public highways.

Milton Bickle a young man about twenty two years of age is employed on the farm of Mr. James Curtin about a mile and a half east of town and was on his way to Bellefonte Wednesday about ten a. m. when he met two men who stopped him, and immediately demanded his money or they would take his life. Young Bickle who is a man in every sense of the word refused to do so. With this answer, one of the villians drew a revolver and shot him intending to kill him, but the ball passed through his coat and undergarments and out the other side.

They again requested him to hand over his money which he did, giving them all he had, which was fifteen dollars. With the money and covering the man with their revolvers, they made good their escape.

The young man hurriedly came to town and swore out a warrant at 'Squire Keichline's office, and with Officer Amos Mullen started to capture the robbers.

One man was taller than the other, had dark hair and mustache. His coat was old and ragged and he had blue overalls on. The other one wore a blue blouse and had blue overalls on and wore a slouch hat.

CHARLES WILSON GRAY.

Death of a Well Known And Respected Resident of Tyrone.

At 12 o'clock Monday night, after an illness of 12 weeks duration, Charles W. Gray died at the family home in Tyrone. The cause of death was typhoid fever and complications arising therefrom. During his entire illness Mr. Gray was a patient sufferer, and notwithstanding the earnest efforts of skillful physicians and the kindly ministrations of a devoted family and loving friends, his affliction proved to be beyond the help of human kind and death claimed him as its victim.

Charles Wilson Gray was born at Matternville, Centre county, Pa., August 22, 1857, and at the time of his death was aged 40 years, 3 months and 7 days. His early life was spent principally in the vicinity of the place of his birth, his occupation being that of a farmer. Removing from Centre county a number of years ago he became a resident of Sinking valley, where he resided until he became a citizen of Tyrone seven years ago.

In 1884 Mr. Gray was united in marriage to Miss Emily K. Ray. To this union were born five children, Ivaloo aged 11, Donald 10, Aura 8, Paul 7, and Catharine aged 3 years, who. with Mrs. Gray, survive the husband and father. Surviving him also are his mother, Mrs. Anna Gray, two sisters, Mrs. Melville Lever and Miss Annie Gray, and two brothers, H. M. and Budd, all residents of Tyrone excepting the last named who resides in Philadelphia.

After his removal to Tyrone Mr. Gray engaged for a while in the mercantile business, but latterly he represented as traveling salesman, the Buxton notion house of Springfield, Mass.

In his home Mr. Gray was seen at his best. Surrounded by his family, other places had no attractions for him. He was a kind husband, an indulgent parent, a true friend and a good citizen.

Funeral Friday at 2 p. m., services to be conducted at the house by Rev. H. L. Jacobs, assisted by Rev. George Warren. Interment in Tyrone cemetery.—Tuesday's Tyrone Herald.

KISSED A COLORED LASS.

But the Drummer Paid Dearly for His Fun.

Daniel Brodhead, who is said to be a traveling man from Waverly, N. Y., has been in Williamsport for over a week and during that time has succeeded in acquiring a rather unenviable reputation, says the Gazette and Bulletin. Saturday night, shortly before the court house timepiece chimed the hour of midnight, Brodhead, who was feeling a trifle gay, was in front of the Federal hotel, together with several convivial companions. An attache of the house was engaged in cleaning the sidewalk and windows with a hose. Brodhead thought he could do it better and attempted to take the nozzle away from the man to show his skill. While endeavoring to secure the hose the sportive travelling man got in front of the rushing stream of cold water and was soon as wet outside as he was inside. This trifle, however, never phased him and the water at least did not dampen his ardor for when two buxom lassies of color came along soon after, Brodhead promptly threw his arms around the waist of one of the damsels and planted a hearty kiss on her swarthy cheek. Patrolman Hughes seeing this took objections and escorted the festive Daniel to the station house.

Monday morning Brodhead was called to judgment before Alderman Harman on a charge of drunk and disorderly conduct and was fined $4.75 for his kiss. He was committed.

The Farmer's Pork Barrel.

The farmer who raises a few pigs for his pork barrel may count the cost and affirm that pigs do not pay but where a few pigs are raised they will consume a large amount of material that would be of no value except for their use. When the pork barrel is full the farmer is at least fortified for the winter with meat, and in many cases where no pigs are kept there is a waste of material that could be utilized with the aid of at least one or two porkers.

Four Feet of Honey.

Huntingdon Journal: Last August Jesse Mills found a bee tree on a ridge near his place, but being too busy at that time he concluded to leave it until he had more time. Last Monday Jesse, his wife and three of the kids, Adam Moringstar and Amos Mountain went to the bee tree. Amos climbed the tree and sawed off the top where the bees were located. He then let it down with ropes to the expectant group below. Four of them carried it as far as they could, when a horse and sled took it to Jess' residence, where it is now resting on a stump in his yard. The honey is in the top to the depth of four feet, and is nineteen inches in diameter.

Luxurious Casket for a Dog.

Every dog has his day, and there is one in Albany, N. Y., that no matter how vicissitudinous his earthly career may have been, will repose luxuriously for his long sleep. One of the richest pieces of workmanship that has ever been turned out from the casket factory at Oneida, N. Y., has just been sent to Albany on a special order for a dog's burial. The casket is of solid mahogany, lined with blue satin, and the pillows are of the same material. The mountings are silver. The case is 17 inches long, 7 inches wide and 5½ inches deep.

Don't Abuse the Confidence.

The country newspaper man's real friends are those who pay every year. His best friends are those who pay at the beginning of each subscription year; or if that is inconvenient, when the time of receiving it is half out; or if any are unfortunate, and have not the money then, before the year closes. The city newspaper's friends are all real, for the publisher thereof will send no paper unless he gets his pay in advance. That's the difference in having friends who will ask for trust and those who will trust you; and confidence should not be abused.

CONGRESS NEXT WEEK.

One of the Most Important Sessions in the History of the Country.

In view of the many questions of vital importance which are certain to come before the forthcoming session of Congress, those persons who desire to be well informed concerning national affairs will be interested in the news that "The Philadelphia Press" has made arrangements to publish more complete reports from Washington than have ever been furnished by any daily paper theretofore. "The Press" maintains regularly at Washington a special bureau in charge of one of the best known writers on national affairs. The working force of this bureau has been increased so as to leave no doubt of its ability to adequately and promptly report every item of Washington news. As Congress will meet next week it will be well to begin reading "The Press" Washington reports at once.

Believe the End of the World is Near.

A peculiar story comes from the southern part of the county which seems almost increditable, but is vouched for as correct in detail. It is the belief prevalent there that the world will come to an end on December 12, and so strong is the belief among a certain class that farmers who inherit the same have left their corn standing in shock, and much of their work undone, in the belief that it will not be needed by them or anyone else. Just who is the prophet after whose predictions these deluded people are following cannot be learned.

Twenty years ago in the same community there were scores of converts to Mother Shipton's prophecies that the world would come to an end in 1879, and at that time a man by the name of Miller was so confident that the prophecy would be fulfilled that he made all preparations for the momentuous event. The subject was ever his talk, and he won many converts to his belief. Farms were then abandoned and work that should have been done left undone, and when the expected day drew nigh the people gathered together in groups and prayed and preached to each other. But the time passed and the world went on. Miller, however, did not lose faith that the time would eventually come and many times preached his doctrine. Others have taken up the delusion and now the date has been set for December 12.

Almost without exception the believers in this prophecy are non-church members, and scout the idea of predestinationism. And yet many of them are intelligent and well read being able to discuss any topic and quote Scripture with the best of theologians. And still more strange is is the fact that they base the claims of their belief on facts found in the Bible, and produce texts to prove the theory. At this time there are evening gatherings at the homes of the different believers, where the one topic of conversation is the coming destruction of the world and in making spiritual preparation for that event by praying and praise service. All wordly subjects are treated with indifference, even to the stranger who may happen to come among them at such a time.

There is no better test of business conditions than the state of the banking business of the country. When bank "clearings" are heavy it is a certain evidence of prosperity. Bradstreet's latest reports show the clearances for the week ending September 18, 1897, to be the largest of any week since January, 1892, and one of the largest ever reported. The increase over the corresponding week of 1896 is more than fifty per cent., and is fully seventy-five per cent. above the corresponding week of the first year of Cleveland's last term.
